LANARK.

On Thursday, Provost Forrest, on behalf of the Town Council, sent a telegram to King George V., congratulating him on his Coronation.

St. Leonard's Church.—We notice that Mr Cranmer has for his subject on Sunday forenoon the interesting and appropriate theme—"The Wreck of Empires—a Coronation Lesson."

Among the list of honours contained in this week's Gazette appears the name of Mr Kelly, the name of our promising young townsman, Mr H. Mingaye Ash. He has been gazetted as a Lieutenant of the Lanark Volunteers. Mr Ash is the only son of the Rev. W. W. Ash, B.A., the Parsonage, Lanark. He intends to follow out a legal career.

Theft.—At the Burgh Court on Monday, before Bailie Lamb, Charles McCafferty, labourer, of no fixed residence, pleaded guilty to a charge of having stolen a watch from the pocket of a man who had been under the influence of drink on Thursday 8th June—Lanimer Day. He was fined £2, the alternative being 30 days imprisonment.

Local Students' Success.—In the recent examinations of Glasgow Technical College, Mr Peter McAuslan, jr., son of Treasurer McAuslan, gained a first class certificate in Hosiery Manufacture.—Another successful student at the college was Mr Easton Jack, son of Mr William Jack, hosiery manufacturer, and now of Glasgow, who also gained a first-class certificate in the same subject. Both were pupils at the Lanark Technical School.

A Coronation Gift.—Messrs A. Brown & Coy., photographers, Bannatyne Street, on Thursday presented the Town Council with a valuable set of views of the Coronation, in the form of a group photograph of the Provost, Magistrates, Town Councillors, Town Clerk, Burgh Assessor, Burgh Chamberlain, and the Town Officer. The photographs which were taken separately are tastefully displayed on a light background and mounted in a handsome oak frame, measuring 30 inches by 30. In addition to being a permanent memento of the Coronation it is an excellent testimonial to the artistic ability of Messrs A. Brown & Coy.

Local Minister Declines Nomination.—The Congregational Committee of Allos Parish Church recently approached the Rev. R. Marcus Dickson, B.D., requesting him to allow his name to be put forward as one of two candidates to be heard with a view to filling the vacancy caused by the translation of the Rev. McLean Watt to St. Stephen's, Edinburgh. We understand that, after careful consideration, the Rev. Mr Dickson has declined nomination. Allos is one of the most important County Churches in Scotland. Not only the members of his own congregation, but the general community, will regret the new pastor's decision. Since coming to Lanark five years ago, the Rev. Mr Dickson has gained the esteem and affection of all sections of the community, regardless of creed. Among the young men of the town he is a persona grata, while his kindliness and unfailing courtesy have endeared him to those ripe in years. Lanark can ill afford to lose such a brilliant preacher and pleasant companion, and the members of his congregation have to be congratulated upon being able to retain his services.

BOWLING NOTES.

Four rinks from Lanark Club travelled to Biggar on Saturday last and were defeated by the handsome majority of 74 shots in a match against the strongest picked players of the local club. Without endeavouring to minimise the defeat, it should be stated that the concession of the Biggar green compared with Waterloo, accounted to some extent for the overwhelming majority. Scores:—

The Lanark rink met Larkhall in the first round of the S.B.A. League at Wishaw on Wednesday last week, when an interesting game resulted in a win for the Larkhall rink by 3 shots.

Mr William Anderson, Lanark's representative in the S.B.A. single handed competition this year, defeated Mr Brown of Hamilton Strathmore at Carluke green on Wednesday last by 1 shot.

The rink medal competition at Waterloo Green has now reached the final stage, the successful rinks in the respective sections being those skipped by Mr John Young, president, and Mr S. K. McKean.

MODEL LODGING HOUSE.

At a meeting of the Guild Court held in the Council Chambers on Tuesday, the Burgh Model Lodging House Coy. Ltd., presented a petition for authority to build premises at Nos. 26 Wellgate, providing accommodation for fifty-seven beds. Objections were taken by David Wood, 60 Wellgate, and Mr Dunlop, Vere House, Castlegate; while Mr Andrew Ballantyne, writer, appeared on behalf of Mr Wm Greig, neighbouring proprietor.

Mr Hamilton, writer, appeared for petitioners, and said he removed Mr Wood's objection by proposing that the window looking into his property would be built up.

A letter was read from Mr Dunlop objecting to the lodging house being erected adjoining her property, as it would lower its value and deprive her of the privacy which she at present enjoyed.

Mr Ballantyne, on behalf of Mr Greig, said he wished to be satisfied that there would be no interference with the walls of his stable. Mr Greig had a right-of-way by the door in this wall, which was not shown in the plan, and he thought this ought to be done.

After deciding that the door in the wall should be shown as requested, the Court granted the petition.

KIRKFIELDBANK.

Schools' Football Competition.—Kirkfieldbank School team have to be congratulated upon the splendid stand they made against Lesmahagow B team in the final of the Schools' Competition, played at Lesmahagow on Friday night last. Although the Kirkfieldbank team divided, the result being a draw of 2 goals each, the Kirkfieldbank team gave a display which leaves little doubt in the minds of their supporters as to the ultimate result. The Lesmahagow team was leading by two goals when the whistle was sounded. From a corner kick, taken by Master Thos. Thomson, Master Jas. Watson opened the scoring for Kirk'd Brk early in the second half. Under almost similar circumstances Master Ben Kinnaird registered the equalising goal.

Upperward District Committee.

THE BRAIDWOOD KNACKERY.

The monthly meeting of the Upperward District Committee of Lanark County Council was held in the County Hall on Monday. Mr James C. Hope-Vere, Blackwood, presided.

THE LATE MR FRENCH.

The Chairman said it was with regret that he had to convey to them the sad news of the death of Mr James French, Braidwood, who had died that morning about 3 o'clock. Mr French had been for many years a useful member of the District Committee. He thought it would be the unanimous wish of the Committee that they should express to the widow and family their sympathy of the loss the Committee had sustained.

Agreed.

THE CORONATION.

The Clerk (Mr A. W. Paterson) read an address which the Chairman proposed should be sent to the King from the Committee, on the occasion of his coronation.

Agreed.

A letter was read from the Rev. R. Marcus Dickson, B.D., inviting representatives of the County Council to join in the service to be held in the Parish Church on Coronation Day.

BRIDGE ACROSS THE CLYDE.

In accordance with the resolution passed at last meeting, representatives of the Committee and Sub-Committee were also present for this item.

The minutes of the Sub-Committee in charge of the proposed bridge across the Clyde between Lanark and Pettinain showed that the directors of the Caledonian Railway Coy. had agreed to make a contribution of £1000 from all purposes of the County and the street leading at Lampits is abolished. It was also stated that as a result of a conference with the Road Board that body had agreed to a grant of £700 towards the cost of the scheme, while they had further indicated that the Board would probably contribute 50 per cent. of the £2,850 which the Committee proposed to spend in other road improvements.

Mr Fenton—I think we are indebted to the Sub-Committee for getting in this grant for the Pettinain Bridge.

The Chairman—We are very much indebted to Mr Scott and Mr Paterson for the way they put our case before the Commissioners.

LEADHILLS SANITATION.

The Sub-Committee appointed to inquire into the sanitation of Leadhills, in recommending the formation of a special scavenging district there, at a probable annual expenditure of £10, intimated that the Marquis of Linlithgow had agreed to contribute 50 per cent. of the annual cost.

Mr W. H. Scott, who had undertaken to submit a form of requisition for a special Scavenging District to the electors for signature, said they did not seem to favour it. (Laughter.)

Mr J. D. Scott said that after the alarming statement made by Mr Scott they had appointed a Sub-Committee. He thought Leadhills was in a condition to compare favourably of the standpoint laid down by the Committee and he thought they should do something.

Mr W. H. Scott—I called the public meeting and stated the case, and nobody would sign the form. The Parish Council said that if the subjects were emptied three times a week it would be sufficient.

The matter was remitted to the Committee.

CARLUKE RAILWAY STATION.

The minutes of the Public Health Committee stated that a report had been submitted by Inspector Fairgrieve as to the state of proper and sufficient sanitary convenience at Carluke Railway Station, and that the Medical Officer had written the General Manager stating that he was causing enquiry to be made, and it had been remitted to the Medical Officer, along with the Clerk, to press the matter.

A CARLUKE RIGHT-OF-WAY.

All the minutes having been approved of, a letter regarding the alleged obstruction of the right-of-way at Bogside, Carluke, was read from Lord Lamington's agents stating that they were not aware of any barricades that obstructed foot passengers. They thought the Lanark Committee was not sufficiently more specifically what these were and how they were dangerous. They had received some complaint of people interfering with the right-of-way, and they hoped there would be no further complaint.

A letter was read from the Clerk of Carluke Parish Council, stating that they considered the process stile unsatisfactory, and a source of danger to old people going over them, and that a wicket gate should be erected instead.

Mr Pillans said that he and Mr Stewart and Mr Gold could look into it.

The Chairman—If Mr Pillans can get over it safely it will be all right. (Laughter.)

MOTOR CAR FOR SURVEYOR?

A sub-committee appointed to consider the advisability of providing a motor car for the work of the Road Surveyor's Department, submitted a report to the effect that so far as efficiency was concerned it was desirable, but they had instructed the Clerk to get quotations from British firms to supply a 12-14 h.p. car.

The Clerk requested the names of those willing to take part in a golf match between the Upper and Middle Ward District Committees, at Bogside Course, Ayrshire, on 6th July.

THE PROPOSED KNACKERY.

The application by the Neilhood Estate Coy., Ltd., for permission to establish a slaughter house at Braidwood, was again considered at a meeting of the Public Health Committee held previous to the quarter committee meeting.

Mr Thomson, of Messrs Thomson and McLaren, solicitors, Wishaw, who appeared on behalf of Coronal Stevenson of Braidwood, said he desired to be allowed, on behalf of Council Stevenson to state his objections to this license being granted. He had been informed that certain influence was being brought to bear on the Council here on the representation that it the license were granted, a large number of people were likely to be employed. Such a representation was one that could not receive any great weight with the District Committee, in respect that there was no assurance that these men would be employed, and also in respect that the number of men employed in other works of a similar kind in the County did not exceed 8 to 10. His first objection was that the situation was one that was unsuitable for such a work and his next was that there was no demand or requirement for such a work in that district. Coronal Stevenson was with the best ideas of the Parish Council, and it was a most greater offence if it was put down in a residential district. This area of the Upperward was principally a residential district, and a portion of Lanarkshire. As for the requirements, while there was no such place in the Kirk'd District, there were a sufficient number in the Middle and Lower Wards to cope with the requirements.

Mr Thos. Tennent, of Messrs Davidson and Shirley, writers, who appeared on behalf of Mr J. H. Graham of Carfin, said that Mr Graham's feeling was that if this work were to be authorised and carried on, there would be great damage done to a residential district. One could hardly estimate the loss over which the smell would extend. At present there were no such works, and it was difficult to say to what extent the mischief might extend. It was an offence to trade, and Mr Graham felt that it was down in a populous place would be a dangerous experiment. He was perfectly himself with all that had been said by Mr Thomson.

Mr Fenton—How far away from Neilfield is Mr Graham's property?

Mr Tennent—I should think not over a mile.

Mr Pillans—I think it is nearer two.

The Committee thereafter met in private, when Dr Wilson, the Medical Officer, submitted a report of his visit to Silvertown Manure Works, the plant at which is said to be similar to that to be erected and used at Neilfield.

The application was granted provisionally on the understanding that in the event of the Medical Officer and the Committee being satisfied, after seeing the work in operation, the license would be confirmed.

Coronation of King George V.

CELEBRATIONS IN THE DISTRICTS

The Coronation of King George took place at Westminster Abbey on Thursday, amid much pomp and splendour, appropriate to such a great occasion. Representatives common with all parts of the empire, the districts in the Upperward of Lanarkshire had made elaborate arrangements for celebrating the great event, but unfortunately Nature's efforts were not of the outdoor celebration. Notwithstanding this, however, signs of rejoicing were everywhere in evidence, and several districts managed to carry out their complete programme. From many hills, Bonfires gleamed in the evening. Undernoted are reports from the various districts:—

LANARK.

As was befitting in the County town the celebrations in Lanark were of a comprehensive character, although not on such a lavish scale as many would have been had the Coronation not followed so closely as it did upon Lanimer Day. The arrangements were in the hands of the Provost, Magistrates and Town Councillors, who appointed a big bonfire by the Common Goal account. The streets were gaily decorated with flags and streamers, and the display at Bonnington, the Cleghorn, the Clydesdale Hotel and the Caledonian House, were particularly effective. There was a large halfcut of visitors from all parts of the County and the streets presented an animated appearance all day. At 10-45 the members of the Town Council and representatives of the various public bodies, assembled at the County Buildings, and headed by Lanark Military Band, led by Band Master R. H. Tweats, marched in procession to the Parish Church, where a suitable service was held, in which all the ministers of the Presbyterian Churches in the town took part. Appropriate passages of Scripture were read by Rev. J. Graham Cranmer, B.D., and Rev. W. M. Dawson, Rev. Messrs William Logan, M.A., D.D., Aitken, and J. Gibb Stockhouse, M.A., offered prayer; while appropriate music was rendered by a united choir under the leadership of Mr Robert Chalmers, organist and choirmaster. Rev. R. Marcus Dickson, B.D., delivered an eloquent and impressive sermon from the words "For I have provided meat for my sting among his sons," in which he spoke of the King's duty to his people and the people's duty to the King."

Following upon the service the procession was reformed and marched by way of Wellgate to the Grammar School, where all the school children in the parish, with the exception of those from Nemphlar, were now mustered. Provost Forrest, wearing his chain of office, in addressing the children, said they were assembled to add their tribute of goodwill and welcome to King George V. and Queen Mary on the occasion of their coronation as Sovereigns of Great Britain and Ireland, and of that Greater Britain beyond the seas, on which the sun never sets. A constitutional monarchy was one of similar functions in the country's history as had they trusted that King George V., as he was the lineal descendant of their new-crowned King George and Queen Mary. The Band having rendered a vocal rendition of "God Save the King," the children gave hearty cheers. As the children marched past three tables they were each presented with a souvenir medal and box of chocolate from the Town Council, and an orange, the gift of Mr John Steel, fruitgrower, Baronald Cottage. Mr Hugh Henderson, F.S.I.S., rector of the Grammar School, on behalf of the children and the teachers moved a vote of thanks to the Town Council for their generosity, and to Mr Steel for his gift of a supply of fruit.

Sports were held at the Race Course in the afternoon, the programme including races for the children and "grown-up" and five-a-side football tournaments.

About sixty of the poor folks in the town were entertained to dinner by the Provost and Magistrates in the Y.M.C.A. Institute at 6 o'clock. Provost Forrest presided, and after dinner, which was exceedingly enjoyed by all, William Lawson, baker, delivered an appropriate speech. The toast of the King and Queen was heartily responded to. An enjoyable programme was thereafter contributed by Mr R. Oldfield with his gramophone; Miss Preston, accompanist; Miss McLaine, Miss Ross, Miss Ellen Ballie Morton, Councillors Hamilton and Fergus, Messrs Stan Veitch, D. T. Kennedy, soloists; and Councillor Allan, who gave a reading. At the close the guests having expressed their appreciation of the kindness shown to them, Treasurer Mc'ushan proposed a vote of thanks to the Provost and Magistrates, and Mr Annan, Town Clerk, to those who had contributed to the programme.

In the evening Provost Forrest entertained his colleagues on the Town Council and their wives to dinner in the Clydesdale Hotel, presiding over a company of thirty, among whom were Sheriff Scott-Moncrieff, Rev. R. Marcus Dickson, B.D., Ex-Provost Weir, Bailie John Hamilton, Dean of Guild; Mr James Annan, Town Clerk, and Mr Thomas Reid, M.A. Dinner having been tastefully served by Mr W. H. Cox, Provost Forrest proposed the toast of "King George V." in an eloquent speech and this having been loyally responded to, he called for "the Queen and other members of the Royal family." Throughout a pleasant evening's entertainment was contributed to by most of those present.

And in a downpour of rain a crowd of several hundreds gathered in Hospitlands park at 10-30 to witness a bonfire kindled by the Boy scouts.

CARLUKE.

The celebrations in Carluke had been arranged on a fairly extensive scale, but unfortunately these were greatly marred by the weather, which shadowed a very dull morning fell almost incessantly from early morning until three o'clock, and rendered outdoor sports, which would have been a brilliant series of events. Work throughout the district was entirely suspended for the day all classes, and shops and public-houses were closed. Overnight the residents had been busy in decorating their buildings, and when morning broke the streets had a gay appearance, flying from nearly every residence, while many buildings were adorned with bunting on the fronts of buildings, and streamers across the streets.

A Divine Service and Church Parade of Territorials took place in Kirkton United Free Church. This service was attended by the general public, while the Territorials occupied the front pews in the area. The service was under the auspices of all the churches, and the ministers who officiated were Rev. Andrew Alston, Rev. Dr. Smellie, and Rev. F. M. Hauxwell. The portions of scripture read were from Isaiah xlix., 8, John xii. and xix., Rev xix., 1 Timothy ii., and Psalm xxiv. The praise was led by Mr Alex. Auld, and the organ played by Miss Mabel Alston. On leaving the church the Territorials, headed by their Pipe Band, marched to the Market Place, where they were drawn up, and gave the Royal Salute, which includes the firing of the fe-de-joie. The pipes of the National Pipe Band, by the band, and three cheers for the King. On reforming, the men marched to the Drill Hall where they were dismissed, while the band proceeded to Market Place School.

Owing to the wet weather the children had been served with refreshments in the School-room, instead of on the field as originally arranged. On the arrival of the band, the children were formed into a procession by Mr J. K. Barr, headmaster, and his staff, and were joined by the children from the Junior School, under Miss Allison and staff, while the R.C. children also took part, being looked after by Mr and Mrs Love and Mr H. Duddy. The Boy Scouts, headed by their Pipe Band, also joined in the long procession, which proceeded by Market Road to the Market Place, where they were drawn up in a square and addressed from a waggonette. Mr N. Buchanan, J.P., presided, and briefly opened the proceedings by referring to the important ceremonial taking place that day in the capital of the Empire—the Coronation of King George of the Majesty and Queen Mary and his God, and they had that day met to show their loyalty to their new King. Mr Buchanan then called on Rev. Wm. Watson to address the children. Mr Watson spoke of the early use to which crowns were put, as a recognition of distinctive service. In Old Testament history there had been the crown was placed on the head of the High Priest, signifying that he was consecrated to the service of God. Through the process of time, men had taken the crown and put it on the head of the reigning monarch, as an emblem of sovereignty. The crown had been favoured by having Bonfires gleamed in the evening. They had had Victoria the Good for 80 years; Edward the Peacemaker for 9 years; and now they had George V., whom they had every reason would be a worthy successor to that under his reign our great nation would continue to make progress in the world, and the glory of God. And in New Testament history they had the crowning of a King that they must give all honour to, for He was the King over all King Ferguson moved a vote of thanks to Mr Watson for his address, and Mr Hunter moved a similar compliment to the Chairman. The National anthem was sung by the children. Mr Thos. Reid, J.P., intimated that, in name of the Provost, he had dispatched a telegram to King George loyal greetings, and that he had received a telegram from the King expressing their deep thanks for all his kindness to them. The children were given a hearty cheer for Queen Mary, and then they were formed into a procession and marched to the Stewart Street to fields on Whitehill Farm. Despite the drizzling rain, the children set off merrily, with their banners waving in the breeze. On arriving at the field the little ones were entertained with races and games, but shortly after two o'clock it was deemed advisable to withdraw them from the field owing to the rain and the wet condition of the grass. They were then marched back to the school where they were regaled with a second supply of refreshments, and each child was presented with a Commemoration Medal.

The adult sports were proceeded with as arranged, and in spite of the drizzle for a few hours in the afternoon, large crowds made their way to the field to watch the various events. Unfortunately a slight accident to a youth, who fell and injured his hand while running in the 440 race, everything passed off satisfactorily. The following is a list of the winners of the various events:—Shoe style race—1, C. M'Donald; 2, Alex. Neilson; 3, Geo. Johnstone. 100 yards race—1, Chas. Cranston; 2, J. Dodds; 3, Jim Martin. Old men's race—1, J. Morton; 2, T. Cowan; 3, C. M'Millan. Relay race—1, C. Cranston, J. Sloan, W. Rankin, T. M'Kenna; 2, J. Dodds, T. Train, G. Milligan, J. Burns; 3, A. Smellie, J. In the evening about ten o'clock, a large bonfire was lighted on the Moor, while in the Market Place a display of Fireworks was given, lasting more than an hour.

While expressions of regret at the unfavourable state of the weather were heard on all sides, a general feeling of optimism prevailed, and all the events were proceeded with amid much enthusiasm. A word of praise is due both teachers and scholars for the energy, ing out of their programme arrangements. All who had charge of the various arrangements had credit in the way in which they were carried out, and notably the general convener, Mr Buchanan and Mr Ferguson the secretaries, Mr Barr and Mr Colquhoun; the treasurer, Mr Hamilton; and the following convenors of committees—Mr J. K. Barr, Mr T. Stewart, Mr W. M'Call, Mr J. Hislop, Mr J. Stewart, Sergt. Morton, and Sergt. Suffill.

LAW.

The celebrations at Law were conducted with great enthusiasm, the successful manner in which elaborate programme was carried through being ample testimony to the splendid arrangements made by the Committee. Commencing with various sub-divisions. A most interesting ceremony took place in Law Public School on Wednesday, the day previous to the celebrations, when through the generosity of Mr R. R. Stirling Harvie of Brownlee, each of the senior pupils in Law Public School were presented with a copy of the assisting pamphlet issued at the Coronation Service as a memento of the occasion. An interesting address on Coronation proceedings was given by Mr James Paterson, J.P. The spoons were gracefully handed over by Mrs Chambers and Mrs Girvan. Revs. J. W. Girvan and J. Chambers also spoke. On the same day the Infant and Junior pupils of the School were each presented with a new penny. The Coronation Spoon presented by Mr Shenky Harvie is an artistic reminder of the event and gave much delight to each of the recipients. At twelve o'clock on Thursday the children were marshalled in the square at Wilson Hall under the able supervision of Mr Richmond, who was assisted by the teaching staff at Law Public School and others. Mr John Stirling presided over the gathering. The children having been assigned to their various positions the gathering was addressed by Dr Paterson, who in clear simple language gave a brief account of the causes which had occasioned the celebrations, and explained in an interesting manner the meaning of a Coronation ceremony. Mr Alexander Weir, P.C., also spoke, commenting in an able manner the remarks of Dr Paterson. Three hearty cheers were then given for their Majesties, King George and Queen Mary. In his usual lucid manner, Mr Richmond, as Secretary of the Committee, outlined the programme for the day, and thereafter the children gave a fine rendering of the National Anthem, which was heartily joined in by all present. The procession then formed and headed by the band marched off in the direction of Cornhill proceeding to that place where also rallying the people. Here the procession turned and marched in the opposite direction until the Railway Bridge was reached. On arriving at this point the procession returned to the Wilson Hall instead of proceeding to a field on Cornhill farm as originally intended, the change in the programme being caused by the drizzling rain which was falling at this time. On arriving at the Hall the number of the school children gave a splendid display in the way of Scout Drill, Dumb Bell, and Bar Bell exercises, the performance eliciting great credit upon their teachers.

The procession was one of the finest ever witnessed in Law, and included many interesting features in the way of decorated lorries, an industrial section, and a group of horsemen, representing various types of subjects in the British Empire. A vehicle which attracted much attention was a lorry which had been seated six of the oldest miners in Law district. The Comic Bands was under the able supervision of Mr Jas. M. Murray and displayed many striking and humorous costumes amongst which were conspicuous a "Weary Willie" and the wearer of a Rarem Skirt.

The weather having cleared the large gathering adjourned to the field kindly granted by Mr Robert Montgomery, each child under 14 years of age being presented with a Coronation Medal at the entrance to the field. An excellent refreshment consisting of buns and milk having been supplied a splendid programme was entered upon. The Adult and Juvenile Sports which followed were well managed and provided a large mass of recreation the various items in each being loudly cheered. Shortly after 9 o'clock George V. and Queen Mary, patriotic songs being rendered at intervals. The enjoyment of the day's proceedings was much increased by the presence of the local silver band, which rendered a number of fine selections at intervals during the course of the day.

The following are the winners of the principal events in the Sports—100 yards handicap—1, J. O'Hara, 2 R. Rogerson, 3 Wm. Trainer; 220 yards—1, J. O'Hara, 2 R. Rogerson, 3 Wm. Trainer; 440 yards handicap—1, W. Robertson, 2 R. Rogerson, 3 J. O'Hara; 880 yards race—1 David Rogerson, 2 J. O'Hara, 3 Wm. Trainer; 1st Boot Race—1 John Boyes, 2 J. Lightbody, 3 W. Robertson; 2nd Boot race—1 A. Durie, 2 J. McCulg.

Previous to assembling at the Hall, short services were conducted in the Parish Church and U.F. Church. These were well attended, the floating clergyman being Rev. John Chambers and Rev. J. W. Girvan.

KIRKFIELDBANK.

children assembled at Kirkfield Memorial Hall where they were presented with souvenir mugs by Mrs Stein of Kirkfield. A procession which, in addition to the children and the villagers, included decorated vans, lorries, &c., was formed in front of the hall and proceeded through the village to Limmill. Returning through the village, they proceeded to Corehouse estate, where Mr C. J. Cranston placed a field at their disposal.

NEW LANARK.

Commencing with a service in the Church at eleven o'clock—conducted by the Rev. James Stevenson, assisted by Mr Hugh McCartney—the festivities concluded with a display of fireworks, including a bonfire in the Hollow Park. On the arrival of the school children from the Grammar School, the villagers headed by the Brass Band marched to the recreation ground, the opening ceremony of which was performed by Mrs Morton, wife of Mr Wm. Morton, J.P., manager. In the regrettable absence of Mr Morton through illness, Mr Samuel Wyatt presided and explained the object with which the Company had in view in granting the grounds. Mr Joseph McPearson presented Mrs Morton with a silver mounted gavel, the gift of the occasion. Mr Hugh McCartney, speaking on behalf of the villagers, expressed their appreciation of the Company's Supremely Coy's generosity. The children were presented with souvenir mugs. A lengthy programme of sports was successfully carried through.

BRAIDWOOD.

The celebrations at Braidwood were carried out tough in a successful manner which reflected the greatest credit on the managing committee. At 11 a.m. the children were assembled in the School under the able supervision of Mr James Miller, Headmaster, who was enthusiastically assisted by his school staff. The National Anthem having been sung short addresses appropriate to the occasion were delivered by Mr A. Alston and Rev. M. Turnbull. The Coronation Medals were presented to the scholars by Mr Miller. Thereafter the children formed in procession and headed by their pipers marched through the village to the field. On arriving at the field a splendid refreshment of buns and milk was served. Sp vts followed the various items being keenly contested. The list of prizes included over thirty handsome watches, the first lead in the Marathon Race being a valuable silver hunting lever watch. Through the kindness of a well-known local gentleman each child on the field was presented with a new penny.

Prizewinners—Marathon Race—1 A. Main, 2 W. Hamilton, 3 J. Mitchell, 4 W. Thomson; 100 Yards Handicap—1 John Chance, 2 W. Speedie, 3 J. Mitchell, 4 John Watson. Bike Championship—Wm. Weir. School Championship Shield (Boys) Wm. Mitchell. Girls—M. Lapsley.

KILNCADZOW AND YIELDSHIELDS.

The distinct feature of the day at Yieldshields evinced their loyalty in an exceedingly outstanding manner. The children of the two districts together with members of the public assembled at Kilncadzow School about 11 30 a.m., where a short service was conducted by Rev. Dr Dunlop. The National Anthem having been sung, the procession was formed, and notwithstanding the unfavourable weather, they brav
