LONDON, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6.

A Cabinet Council was held yesterday. Shortly after it broke up, the Commanders of all the military stations in London and it's vicinity received orders to hold themselves in readiness to march at shortest notice, and they will all be brigaded on 20th instant.

Government, it is confidently stated, have received certain intelligence, not only of the arrival of Pichegru, Berthier, and several other Generals on the French coast, but of their preparations being in a state of forwardness as to leave no doubt of a desperate attempt at invasion being made in the course of the present month. The embarkation of troops was to commence on the 1st instant, and it was supposed, would occupy five or six days. The expedition, formed into several squadrons, is to sail chiefly from Dunkirk, Ostend, and the ports of Holland.

Stamford,

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 7.

At a common hall held for this borough yesterday, Mr. Alderman Snow was sworn into the office of Mayor for the year ensuing: on which occasion he gave an elegant entertainment at the town-hall to the members of the corporation, and a very numerous party of gentlemen of the town and neighbourhood.

The Rev. Jeremiah Jackson, of Uffington, was on Wednesday elected Head Master of the Free School of Wisbech.

BIRTH.—Lately at Grantham, the lady of Mons. Chevalier, of twenty-seven, delivered of a daughter.

Last week was married, Mr. William Jump, attorney at law, of Wisbech, to Miss Newman, daughter of the Rev. Mr. Newman, of Brentwood, in Essex.

A short time since was married at Spilsby, in this county, Mr. John Bassington, joiner, to Miss Ann Burden, of the same place—also at Willoughby, in this county, Mr. Danbery, to Elizabeth Dowman, of Mablethorpe.—And Mr. Overton, of West Keal, to Miss Williams, of Kirton, in Holland.

On Wednesday se'nnight died, Mrs. Fox, the lady of ——Fox, gent. physician, of Bristol, and elder sister of Edward Brown, Esq. of this place.

Last week died at Spalding, Mr. Jas. Thompson, late a coach-proprietor, of this place.

On Sunday last died, aged 46, Mr. J. Pickering, the Exeter's Arms public-house, in St. Martin's.

On Tuesday the 20th ult. died at Sleaford, Miss Eleanor Maydwell, aged 55; and on the Saturday following, Mrs. Ann Maria Maydwell, mother to the above, in her 84th year, at the late Rev. ——Maydwell, of Market Deeping, aged 82 years.

Henry Swann, Esq. of Esher, in Surrey, is returned Member in Parliament for Yarmouth, in the Isle of Wight, in the room of Col. Macdonald, deceased.

In consequence of the great number of light and counterfeit half guineas and seven-shilling pieces now in circulation, the old practice of weighing them is become absolutely necessary, and is getting very common. The public would do well to be cautious in what money they take now, as there are several persons travelling about the country, putting off great quantities of counterfeit gold and silver, which the holders of must, ere long, be great sufferers by.

A sixteenth share of No. 135, drawn a prize of £20,000, in the present lottery, was sold at Mr. White's office, Wisbech, to Mr. Wm. Eldridge, of Bellingham, near Newmarket.

Mr. YOUNG's Annals of Agriculture for the current month, independently of that variety of valuable information which always recommends it to the perusal of every intelligent farmer, contains the very interesting papers by the Most Noble the Marquess of EXETER, which evince his Lordship's watchfulness in regard to the Agricultural and Horticultural interests of his country.

NEWARK, OCTOBER 6.

On Thursday last died, Mr. Samuel Smith, carrier, of this town.

On Thursday last died, Mrs. Timm, wife of Mr. Wm. Timm, gent. of Whatton, near Bingham.

On the 29th ult. Wm. Jessop, Esq. took the customary oaths on his being chosen Mayor of this town for the year ensuing.—At the same time the corporation unanimously voted thanks to John Foulis, Esq. the late Chief Magistrate, for his great attention to the duties of that office, and for his very upright and unbiassed conduct on several important occasions during his mayoralty.

Stokeham Huthwaite, Esq. is the Mayor elect for Nottingham; Messrs. Williams and Nelson, Sheriffs, and C. L. Morley and Barber, Chamberlains of that corporation.

At Retford fair, on Monday and Tuesday last, coarse sold from 3l. 10s. to 3l. 15s. per cwt.; hogs as high as 8l. per cwt. Great quantities were brought in, the sale of which was very brisk, and the fair, considering the wetness of each day, remarkably well attended.

We are glad to find that the person who threw a glass at Mrs. Robertson from the gallery of the Newark theatre, in December last, is made sensible of his offence (see the advertisement in this paper). Much praise is due to Mr. Robertson for the steps which we understand he immediately took to punish the man for his conduct, and we hope they will stand an example to the public, to show Mr. Robertson's determination to prevent a repetition of such offences, and to preserve uninterrupted the peace of his theatre.

The Royal Army of Reserve, which collected at Nottingham, having received their arms, have marched thence for Kent and Sussex.

We have great pleasure in stating, from respectable authority, that the laudable zeal and attention which have been shewn in the formation of the volunteer corps of this town, by adopting the prudent resolution of appointing gentlemen of military skill and experience to the rank of Field Officers, are likely to be productive of the most beneficial consequences; and we have great satisfaction in witnessing the progressive improvement which is daily made in the discipline and military appearance of the corps; indeed nothing could mark more strongly the approbation of the inhabitants of the system so wisely prescribed and so necessary to be pursued, than the very liberal subscription which has been raised for the exigencies of the corps, and the numerous enrolment which has taken place.

LINCOLN, OCTOBER 6.

On Tuesday was married at Boston, Mr. Thos. Coulson, of this city, wine merchant, to Mrs. Francis, of the former place, widow of the late Mr. Patrick Francis, surgeon and apothecary.

Yesterday morning died suddenly, at Sutton-house, near Saltfleet, in this county, the Rev. T. Mangles, of this city, aged 36, Rector of Aystharpe, in this neighbourhood.

On Tuesday last died, at Spilsby, Mrs. Mary Barnet, widow, far advanced in years.

Last week died at East Keal, in this county, Rich. Kirkby, yeoman.—And a few days since, James Scott, labourer, of the same place, dropped down dead as he was digging potatoes, not more than a quarter of an hour after having certain hearty breakfast.

Lately died at Tissey, in this county, Mary Bolney, wife of William Dobney, of the same place, farmer. She being much younger than her husband, used to say she should soon bury her poor old man, and then she would marry a young one!

About six weeks ago was accidentally drowned at Archangel, Capt. Ward, of the Britannia, of Hull.

We have had the pleasure of seeing copies of this paper crowded of late with the liberal sentiments utered within the county for patriotic purposes, but we do not remember to have seen in any newspaper a subscription more honorable to the individual contributors, or to the district in which it is raised, than that in the preceding page for the support of the legion of North Lincolnshire volunteers, under the command of the Right Hon. Lord Yarborough.

On Monday evening last a young lady of Louth, in this county, named Jones, made her appearance on our stage in the character of Otilia, in the tragedy of Alfonso, King of Castile, being her first attempt, as an actress, in public. With pleasure we pronounce she did justice to the part throughout the whole, and received the plaudits of a numerous and respectable audience.

Tuesday John Roberts, of Leadenham, labourer, went into a wood at Branswell, near Sleaford, belonging to Mr. William Franklish, with a quantity of gunpowder, meaning to blow up or separate part of a rock. He took a light with him, which accidentally communicating to the powder, he was killed in an instant. He has left a wife and family to lament his untimely death.

Lately was committed to our castle, by Thomas Coltman, Esq. George Nutsey, charged by the oaths of Jos. Simpson, of Halton Holgate, farmer, Mary his wife, and others, with entering the dwellings and stealing 15 guineas out of a bureau; also charged on the oath of Richard Cary, with stealing a piece of cloth out of his garden at Halton Holgate aforesaid.

On Sunday evening last, about six o'clock, our city gaol, adjoining the Stone-bow, was discovered to be on fire.—A strange ringing of bells gave alarm, and the drums of the third Lincoln militia beat to arms. Too much praise cannot be given to the officers and men of that regiment, who assembled with all possible expedition, and guarded seven prisoners to the county gaol, and one to the house of correction. By great exertion of the inhabitants, the fire was extinguished in less than an hour. It was entirely accidental: A small old iron tube, foul with soot, taking fire, blazed into the roof, and communicated to some reeds.—When the guard of soldiers got near the castle gates, a man named Horton, a worthless character, rushed amongst them, and behaved in a turbulent manner. He was secured immediately and lodged in prison, and was on Tuesday committed to Kirton house of correction to take his trial at the sessions on Friday next.

A remarkable three-shear ewe, of the real Lincolnshire breed, the property of George Chaplin, Esq. of Tathwell, near Louth, was last week slaughtered by Mr. John Spicer, of this city:—

Weight, when alive, - - - - - 286lb.
Carcase, when slaughtered, - - - 176lb.
Offal and loose fat, - - - - - - 89lb.
