MARRIAGES.

WATERHOUSE—WRIGHT.—May 20, at St. Mary's Church, Wordsworth, by the Rev. Wm. Basham, Mr. Thomas Waterhouse, of Sheffield, to Miss Sarah Wright, daughter of the late Thomas Wright, Esq., for many years of Surey, near Nottingham. No cards.

DEATHS.

LEE.—May 20, after a short illness, Mr. Thomas Lee, in his 76th year, Ecclesfield. The Moor, by request, friends will kindly accept this intimation.

BIRKS.—Suddenly, on Sunday morning, Mr. Charles, only son of John and Fanny Birks, of Orchard-street, in the 30th year of his age.

LOWTHE—May 17, at his residence, 97, Lansdowne-road, Wm. Jowitt, aged 62.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Duke of Rutland has returned to Bute House from Working.

The Duke of Devonshire held his first assembly this season at Chatsworth, the Moor, on Monday. Mr. Grace's reception was very numerously attended by the diplomatic corps, nobility, and members of the House of Commons.

A FARMERSDAY OR FIRST OF CAPTAIN FORBES.—About half-past three o'clock on Saturday afternoon a broke cart on the premises of Mr. William Hopkinson, at the Cutlers' Arms, near Worksop. The loss is estimated at about £50.

MALTON.—The Malton Rural and Urban Sanitary Authorities have resolved to appoint a joint officer, the medical officer of health and inspector of nuisances, the former from £200 to £150 per annum, and the latter from £150 to £100 per annum, for the next three years; but if either party cannot have refused their sanction, and as this involves non-compliance with the Sanitary Act, the matter is to be reconsidered by the authorities.

LONDON.—The Nottingham Amateur Christy Minstrels have presented the Mayor and Corporation of Nottingham with the handsome gift of two gold medals given in aid of its funds. It is to be added that the town of Nottingham presented to the institution some years ago a silver cup, which it gave to Sutton, the boat is named the Robin Hood of Nottingham, and is stationed at the Tower of London. Nottingham is also has already done good service in saving life from different shipwrecks.

THE NUNNERY COLLIERS AND THEIR WAGES.—In our review of the position of all the associated and non-associated colliers in the Sheffield District, which Derbyshire, published in Saturday's Telegraph, the words "arbitrate on remaining 5 per cent." were inadvertently added, in the Nunnery Colliery, that the men should have been—"Nunnery Colliery—men offer 10 per cent. of arbitration; men demand a flat rate of 10 per cent. or 10 per cent. reduction, which has been declined by the Masters."

Rapid progress is being made with the first steps towards the restoration of Hy Chapel—or, to give it its ancient name, the Chapel of St. Bartholomew—Hy-place, Holborn. It is intended to restore the substantial part of it, the fabric as nearly as possible, and the stone, leaving the ornamentation to be constituted hereafter. The Duke of Rutland has given a handsome £20 to the Restoration Fund, and has promised bedlike to fill the large stained window, which is to be placed, and not nearly £1,000; and three other painted windows are promised by friends of the Rev. William Lockhart, of Hyplace, who has undertaken the work of the restoration, commencing ecclesiastical antiquity.

SALOON CARRIAGES ON THE MANCHESTER, SHEFFIELD, AND LINCOLNSHIRE RAILWAY.—On Saturday, the minutes after one o'clock p.m., a train with two Great Northern saloon cars stopped at Sheffield for the Victoria Station on its way from Retford to Manchester. These cars have been in use on the Leeds and Bradford express to and from London on the Great Northern for some months, and have lately been transferred to the Pelo-group. They are of great length, and run on bogie frames in precisely the same manner as the Pullman cars. There are the usual compartments, all finely and luxuriously fitted, and the end compartments are so arranged that they will let down for sleeping accommodation at night. The chief object in bringing down the cars on Saturday was to see whether they would fully and safely pass the points, and the curves in a safe manner, between Retford and Manchester.

THE CARRIGAN IRON, STEEL, AND WIRE COMPANY, LIMITED.—The resolutions passed at the special general meeting of members of the above Company, held on the 6th and 20th days of April, have now been formally notified to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies in the effect "That the agreement dated the 13th day of March, 1876, and made between the Carrigan Iron, Steel, and Wire Company, Limited, of the one part, and Joseph Angus and Edwin Parker and Edwin Parker, Joseph Angus, Joseph Orch and Francis Day and James Rose Cave and Humphrey Turner and Joseph Angus, of the other part, be and the same is hereby confirmed; and that the said Company be wound up voluntarily, in accordance with the terms of such agreement." The agreement is in the Pulleyn case, Henry Hart and Robert Henry Sharp be and are hereby appointed liquidators of the said Carrigan Iron, Steel, and Wire Company, Limited."

THE TEMPT.—The wind has continued in the north-east the whole of the week. The days have been fine and nights cold. The river is very fine and low. Fish have been baiting and bills well, probably days they have taken the fly will also in the afternoon and evening until sun down. In the morning the cock-a-doodle woodcock bathe with orange body—a good imitation of the green fly; and Will's favourite dun, with a red hackle (Thursday morning) is warmer, and very overcast, with every appearance of a shower. Eels have commenced to take the worm freely, and the best way to fish for them is to allow the bait to be stationary alongside dog roots or stonework; early morning and evening is the best time. Friday: River low and fine; weather cold and cloudy; wind south; pulled with a red hackle; fish rose well this morning. Rounders and eels taking worms well. Date baling fly in the middle of the day.—H. Will, Nottingham, in the Field.

ARMOUR.—The new pattern armour bolts for bonded ships are now being manufactured at Messrs. Brown's quantities in the Royal dockyards, and are also being made for the Admiralty by Messrs. Charles Cammell and Co. and Sir John Brown and Co., of Sheffield. The merit of the invention consists in the fact that the pendorons nuts never break off, and the Admiralty have so far the Sheffield stated to have done during the bombardment of Charleston when a shot struck an ironclad ship, the armour bolts all round have pulled through the plates, and thus prevented the armour plates loose, and the ship in consequence easily paddled off. The Sheffield firms have claved all claim on the Admiralty for royalty or pecuniary reward on account of the bolts, but the Admiralty have not yet answered after the inventor. Sir William Armstrong has nearly completed a shell, which is to be put into manufacturing for the Italian Government. It will be known as "Armstrong shell," as originally intended.

THE WINTER.—The Royal Meteorological Society registered in what is technically called the "winter" of 1875 to 76 the coldest winter in England and Wales indicated in Mr. Glaisher's report to the Meteorological Society. The winter was very cold, while minimum was recorded in January last at Bodmin, Lincoln, and Lancaster, Cardiganshire. It will be of interest to note the lowest temperature recorded in the Sheffield district at the stock exchange place as set in the list. The lowest registered by the Rev. R. Ingle, M.A., at Augusthill, Ecclesall, Sheffield, was 25·0 deg.; by Mr. J. R. Mann, at Osborne, 23·0 deg.; by Mr. J. Ward, at Ecclesfield, 22·0 deg.; by Champlin, at South House, near Bromsgrove, 22·2 deg.; by Mr. A. Ward, at Ecclesfield, 22·0 deg.; by Mr. A. M. Maury, at Hastings, 26·0 deg.; and by Mr. W. L. Hall, at Sheffield, 17 deg. At Eastbourne and South Bournes the greatest cold was 18 degrees, but in most places it was in January.—Sanitary Record.

The Christians in Turkey hate the Turks quite as much as they hate the Christians, and are spt, the Greeks especially, to be nearly as bitter against the Christians as against the Turks. Their aim is to establish an independent Greek Empire, which could be made up of the Muslimans being fighters, in a murderous civil war.—Spectator.

GOVERNMENT PURCHASES OF FOREIGN IRON.—The statement that the English Government has given a large order for iron in Belgium, Germany, or France is a small saying, has excited indignant comment amongst the iron trade of Wales, and the Cardiff Exchange was again in proportion to the present productive power. The Welsh ironmasters, it is urged, will not do their duty if they do not bring the matter before the House of Commons. If it this statement is true, the only answer which the Government could offer is, that it could not produce the which the nation's business is carried on—give the contract to the lowest tender, it has a right to buy in the market, wherever that market may be situated. Complaints of the kind are not uncommon, however, and they appeal strongly, not only to the local interests which they represent, but to the general sympathies of every state trade, but also to the wider national feelings which suffer when the money of the Government, the Government, then, is found guilty of helping to push such trade out of England, and instead of helping as we ought to consider, and national feelings is to be not a simple Welsh is to good the encouragement of the Government with buying, for national ends, in the most efficient way. If the duty on Ireland and Wales, relative is to be raised up with and qualified by another duty—namely, that of helping a native industry or establishing an unfortunate manufacture there—the English constitution must be altered, and a new law, written or unwritten, be added to that effect.—Economist.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL.—Dr. Alexander Ferrier, F.R.C.S., writes: "The Elements of Medical Medica and Therapeutics, Vol. 1, "It was fitting that the author of the best analytical and investigations into the properties of cod oil should himself be the purveyor of that important medicine." Dr. Lankester, F.R.S., writes: "Dr. de Jongh's Medicinal Cod Liver Oil is clear, the Cod Liver Oil most water, the de Jongh's guarantee to be preferable to any other Medical Cod Liver Oil." Sold only in capsules imperial half-pints, 2s. 6d.; Pints, 4s. 6d.; Quarts, 8s. 6d. Wholesale, Sole Consignees, Anne, Harford, and Co., 77, Queen, London.—Edit.

FATAL COLLIERY ACCIDENT.

GROSS NEGLECT OF DEPUTIES.

On Saturday afternoon an inquest was held at the Gate Inn, Pilley, near Barnsley, respecting the death of Charles Crossland, engine tenter, aged 13 years, whose death was caused by an explosion of gas in one of the pits connected with the Wharncliffe Silkstone Colliery, on Tuesday, Mr. W. H. Peacock, solicitor, Barnsley, was present on behalf of the Company, whilst Mr. Clegg, solicitor, Sheffield, presented the Topmen's Association, of which deceased was a member. Mr. F. N. Wardell, the Government inspector, was also present. Evidence with respect to the gas was given by two deputies, named Elliott and Barraclough, of the latter stating that the boy was killed by accident he found, while examining his district, an escape of gas, but believing it was not serious he proceeded on, which was contrary to the rules. He could not say for certain what caused the explosion, but thought it possible, but believed it would be about a week, for it had not been measured both deputies for the reluctance they had shown in giving evidence, as it was evident they knew more about the matter than they did not say anything about it. It appeared that deceased was alone in the pit all night; he should have accompanied the deceased, but during the night the gas had had accumulated lighted either at the old or at the entire bite, and on the Tuesday morning the deceased was found at his post very much scalded, and died in the afternoon. The jury returned a verdict of "Accidentally killed by an explosion of gas," and expressed their opinion that the deputies named were not qualified for the posts they held."

THE SATURDAY AFTERNOON CONCERTS.

The third of the present series of Saturday afternoon orchestral and vocal concerts, for which Mr. Clegg is the promoter, took place on Saturday last, and was attended by a numerous audience. The following was the programme:—

Overture ..... "Italiana in Algieri" ..... Rossini
Song ..... "The Yeoman's Wedding" ..... Pinsuti
Solo (Violin) ..... (a Cavatina ..... Raff
) (b Barcarole ..... Spohr
Adagio Cantabile and Vivace Assai, Symphony No. 3 ..... Haydn
Song ..... "Bonnie Dundee" ..... Bishop
Solo (Violin) ..... "Hungarian Dances" ..... Brahms and Joachim
Waltz ..... Coward
Song ..... "Fairy Bower" ..... Coward
Overture ..... "Poet and Peasant" ..... Suppé

Mr. Peck had made this concert more than usually interesting by the engagement of Herr Alexander Kummer, who is a violinist of great power, but is not so well known to the rather strong body of amateurs present, although his name was therefore, as it was good character. Herr Kummer is from the Leipzig Conservatoire. He is a pupil of Herr Ferdinand Hiller, great Joachim, the king of violinists, he complete the Leipzig School of Modern Violinists, and should be in one of the chief executants in the orchestra of the Leipzig Gewandhaus Hall. It is gratifying that his performance on Saturday afternoon was looked forward to with much expectation by our local violinists, and the expectation was not at all disappointed. The tone was very sweet and sufficiently to test the powers of the violinist. That the tone was not wanting in power was demonstrated by the frequent and hearty manifestations of the delight of the audience. The tone was evoked. Herr Kummer's tone, though not remarkable for power, is of the sweet and mellow kind, and his bowing and phrasing left nearly anything to be wished possible to any of the violinists who have been heard in the Barnsdale the violinist displayed exquisite taste in his treatment of the subject. An encore was demanded, which, however, Herr Kummer declined to give. The selection of the two Hungarian dances by Brahm and Joachim respectively, the latter of which was arranged for solo player in this case acknowledged the compliment by repeating the second of the two. The Hungarian dances played better since its formation, and the performance of the two concerts in Sheffield, the latter of which was thoroughly appreciated. Gung'a waltz music formed a pleasing piece, but the overture to "Poet and Peasant" composed by Mr Michael Costa on the return from India of the Prince of Wales was also played. Mr. Coward, an amateur baritone, was the vocalist. Mr. Clegg was the accompanist.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Letters from Mrs. Barber and "A Sufferer"—which were in type on Friday—have been crushed out. We shall do our best to make room for them on Tuesday.

WAINGATE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SHEFFIELD DAILY TELEGRAPH.

Sir,—If the officers of the Humane Society were to summon the persons responsible for the state of the road in Wingate Street, the Sheffield Corporation would have a lively bone in Sheffield. Being a resident in that locality, I have seen many children and adults in most dangerous accidents to animals and to our fellow-creatures. Unless the Corporation mend it, there is a continued danger of his life.—I am, yours respectfully,

THE OWSTON FERRY DISPUTE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SHEFFIELD DAILY TELEGRAPH.

Sir,—I noticed in your yesterday's impression that no less than £10,000 was expended in the recent ferry gravestone case. This great amount of money needs no comment. Think of the many thousands who require the help and assistance of Sheffield, and I think, too, of the many distants in our own town of Sheffield where this money could be fully and advantageously placed, the cause of mission halls, places of worship, or public institutions. It really seems to me that the money in the hands of these people should spend so much money over a little paltry piece of ground, and that, too, for a very little good purpose. Excuse this trespass, dear sir.—Yours truly,

[If it be "a good purpose" to rebuke bigotry, to humble arrogance, and to foil an act of gratuitous persecution, the Wesleyans were perfectly right in spending £10,000 over the case. What they have had to spend "this paltry amount of money" over a matter which is small in itself, although not small in respect of the principle involved, is no concern to us, but it is a matter of serious moment to the state of the law. We regret it so nothing less than bitter feeling could have been in the right throughout, and who have defended the right under circumstances of extreme provocation, have notwithstanding to pay £10,000.—Ed. S. D. T.]

SALE MEMORIAL CHURCH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SHEFFIELD DAILY TELEGRAPH.

Sir,—The following passage appears in your report of a meeting held in Sale Memorial Church, Ecclesall, "A brief burst of massive proportions, rising 130 feet above the ground at one angle of the tower, forms an important feature of the design, but the upper part of this is excluded from the present contract on account of insufficient funds. The tower will be left in the rough, and it is the Committee to complete the tower before the church is dedicated, it is expected that it will be in a few future time it may never be finished (as is the case with St. Luke's, Sheffield, and which seems to be considerably 50 years from its monumental character. Hoping this will not be but right of the Sale Memorial Church.—I am,

ONE WHO REMONS THE MEMORY OF THE LATE CANON SALE.

SAVAGE DOGS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SHEFFIELD DAILY TELEGRAPH.

Sir,—I see in your Thursday's edition an account of a little boy in Gower-street having been bit by a savage dog. I, for one, think it time that some steps should be taken to cause of dogs being muzzled every year to the great annoyance of the public. I have been bitten by two dogs, one of these savage brutes were compelled to either destroy or keep them muzzled, and I think the Public Dogs would have the freedom with safety. I would suggest, in order to carry out the Act, that a notice be signed by one of the respectable householders, who know the dog to be unfit, and the magistrates should order the dog to be muzzled. This, I think, would prevent cases of hydrophobia both in man and beast. Hoping this subject will be taken up by some abler pen, I remain, yours truly, A. B.

P. S.—I destroyed a valuable and great favourite dog of my brother's, which was thought to be mad, and a bayter, and most dogs do not like to see hawkers about.

ART IN SHEFFIELD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SHEFFIELD DAILY TELEGRAPH.

Sir,—Will you allow me to call attention to the Sheffield Society of Artists, who are about holding their annual exhibition in the Corporation Museum and Art Gallery at the Central Institute, St. James'-street, I would bespeak for the artists of Sheffield and their works the sympathetic interest of the picture-buyers, and especially those resident in our town, who, having made their fortunes in Sheffield, have for art, have the ability thus to encourage the praiseworthy art that are being made to place art and artists in Sheffield on a more favourable footing.—I remain, yours, A. Sheffield.

Those who had the good fortune to see the meritorious works on exhibition last year will be pleased to hear that the approaching one will present features of honest art which Sheffield will be proud to claim as its own, and a source of pleasure, gratification, and pride to all who take an interest in the fine arts, and in our local artists.

The assiduous efforts and fixed determination of several gentlemen to make the Society a success have already in a very advanced position, and their works have been accepted in all the leading provincial exhibitions, and in several instances have been the most attractive.

Works from their ranks therefore have acquired some merit, which we hope and believe will be in advance, and it is to be hoped that these efforts may be stimulated and encouraged. A Sheffield gentleman, who has generously acted for sale.

Sir, Mr. Editor, you will excuse this trespass upon your space in speaking a good word for our Sheffield Society of Art and Mr. Ward's Exhibition.—I am, WILLIAM C. WARDLOW.

Oakedge, Bromfield, Sheffield, May 17th.

BARNSLEY.

BARNSLEY.—Accounts of the riots in Barnsdale on Saturday night, and the following Monday, show that the rioters stole chiefly provisions—potatoes and roots—that they did not threaten white flag, and that they were put down without the soldiers firing. They dispersed, in fact, wherever they see soldiers, however few. Mr. Barnsley's estate is the property of a Mr. Barnsley, who, it seems, to have been first and courageous. He collected the officers in the town, and sent them wherever he saw they being more in hand than other police or volunteers, and he was ably seconded by Mr. Barnsley, who, with his intimate and feelings is to be not a simple Welsh which is to good the encouragement of the Government with buying, for national ends, in the most efficient way. If the duty on Ireland and Wales, relative is to be raised up with and qualified by another duty—namely, that of helping a native industry or establishing an unfortunate manufacture there—the English constitution must be altered, and a new law, written or unwritten, be added to that effect.—Economist.

DERBYSHIRE NEWS.

ETAM.—A CHILD FOUND DEAD.—An inquest was held on Saturday, before A. O. Brookes, Esq., at the Bull Dog, Etam, Ryan, on the body of an infant, son of Mr. Edward Slater, of Ryam, who was found dead in bed on the morning of the previous day. The jury returned a verdict of "Found dead in bed."

BAKEWELL WATER WORKS.—On Sunday the shutting were lifted at the new Bakewell Waterworks for purpose of running the water from the reservoirs, and let down again the water, and at seven o'clock to hold the water back from the River Derwent, so that the pipes for the Bakewell Water Works, and the glass, the pipes, and the stock and Rowsley and Bakewell. The work will be finished if the numbers of people visited the place.

BEEPER BOARD OF GUARDIANS.—The fortnightly meeting of the Board was held on Saturday, Mr. Rd. presided, the chair, and J. Roberts, Esq., the vice-chair. The Rev. Canon Ryle, the Rev. Canon Ryle, Rev. Canon Ryle, Archdeacon of Lichfield Cathedral, touchingly alluded to the lamented death of the Bakewell late Clerk, Mr. Dodge Fyn, and expressed deep regret at the death of one who had so long and so faithfully had the duties of such station and the benefit of the Union. Mr. Fyn, and the Board would be convened to his widow, Mrs. Fyn, and her family in their deep sorrow. The matter was conclude by moving that the Board record in their minutes their sincere regret at the death of the late Clerk, and respectfully request the Chairman to convey their condolence to Mrs. Fyn and family. Seconded by Mr. Geo. Kirkby, Belper, seconded the motion, which was supported by Mr. Bowmer, Mr. Bowmer, Mr. Bowmer, and to appoint a successor to their late clerk at their next ordinary meeting.

DEATH OF MR. GEORGE PYM.

On Friday evening, Mr. George Pym, who had for the last two or three years been in an enfeebled state of health, died at his residence, Bakewell, Bakewell, in his seventieth year of age. Deceased's father died in Bakewell, and he was for many years the principal trustee of the Belper Petty Sessional Division, and Clerk to the Bakewell Petty Sessional Division, and Clerk to the Bakewell Petty Sessional Division, and succeeded by him in both offices at the time of his death.

CHESTERFIELD COUNTY POLICE.

SATURDAY.—Before A. Barnes, Esq., C. Mare, Esq., and Rev. Canon Ryle.

KEEPING DOGS WITHOUT LICENSES.—The following persons were charged with the offence of keeping dogs without licenses:—Geo. Walker, Whittington moor; Geo. Dodd, Whittington moor; Arthur Robinson, Whittington moor; Thomas Ward, Whittington moor; Thomas Ward, Barrow hill; and Thomas Thompson, Old Whittington.—Fined 1s. and costs, and 7s. 6d. compensation to the dog keeper, Mr. Mr. Mr.
