

THE BALKAN POSITION.

Sir E. Grey's Statement in the Commons.

THE LATEST ZEPPELIN RAID.

Russians Driving Back the Enemy in Disorder.

ARTILLERY BUSY IN THE WEST.

Sir Edward Grey made an important pronouncement on the Balkan situation in the House of Commons this afternoon.

He indicated that Rumania is friendly to the Allies, that Greece will facilitate the Allies in giving aid to Serbia, and that Russia will co-operate with Britain and France.

Official telegrams dealing with the Western front indicate that fierce fighting is proceeding on that portion occupied by the British, particularly near Halluch and Loos.

The French official message says that in Artois the artillery engagement continues, and was very violent yesterday.

The success in Galicia, which was reported in the Telegraph, official message which, together with other Russian news, was found on page 3, has been followed up by the Austro-Germans to fight after a stubborn battle.

The Russian cavalry showed great courage and passed through three lines of entrenched ranks, scattering the enemy.

In the Donk region all the German attacks were repulsed, while, on the other hand, the Russian forces made progress.

Copenhagen messages report the continuation of British submarine activity in the Baltic, advice from Liden stating that twenty-seven German steamers have been awarded, and that only ten have arrived at their destination.

The German fleet has been destroyed in the past few days.

The Russian Premier is said to have informed the Entente Ministers that he will certainly fight against Bulgaria and the Central Powers.

The German attack on Salonika, which was reported in the Telegraph, official message which, together with other Russian news, was found on page 3, has been followed up by the Austro-Germans to fight after a stubborn battle.

The Russian cavalry showed great courage and passed through three lines of entrenched ranks, scattering the enemy.

In the Donk region all the German attacks were repulsed, while, on the other hand, the Russian forces made progress.

Copenhagen messages report the continuation of British submarine activity in the Baltic, advice from Liden stating that twenty-seven German steamers have been awarded, and that only ten have arrived at their destination.

The German fleet has been destroyed in the past few days.

The Russian Premier is said to have informed the Entente Ministers that he will certainly fight against Bulgaria and the Central Powers.

The German attack on Salonika, which was reported in the Telegraph, official message which, together with other Russian news, was found on page 3, has been followed up by the Austro-Germans to fight after a stubborn battle.

The Russian cavalry showed great courage and passed through three lines of entrenched ranks, scattering the enemy.

In the Donk region all the German attacks were repulsed, while, on the other hand, the Russian forces made progress.

Copenhagen messages report the continuation of British submarine activity in the Baltic, advice from Liden stating that twenty-seven German steamers have been awarded, and that only ten have arrived at their destination.

The German fleet has been destroyed in the past few days.

The Russian Premier is said to have informed the Entente Ministers that he will certainly fight against Bulgaria and the Central Powers.

The German attack on Salonika, which was reported in the Telegraph, official message which, together with other Russian news, was found on page 3, has been followed up by the Austro-Germans to fight after a stubborn battle.

ZEPPELIN RAID.

London Area Visited Last Night.

THE CASUALTIES.

Eight Killed, Thirty-Four Injured.

At midnight the Press Bureau issued the following statement regarding last night's Zeppelin raid.

The Press Bureau has received instructions from the Home Secretary to announce that a Zeppelin raid was made yesterday evening over a portion of a London area, when a certain number of incendiary and explosive bombs were dropped.

The material damage done is small. A few fires resulted, but they were quickly put out by the fire brigades.

The Admiralty will issue a statement very shortly regarding the Zeppelin raid.

At present it is only possible to say that no public buildings were injured, and the casualties are far reported number, two women and six men killed, and about 34 injured.

With the exception of one soldier killed in these were civilians.

These figures include the casualties reported at 11.45 on Wednesday, the 13th inst.

The total casualties in air raids in this country during the operations of the war, are 124 killed and 377 injured, made up as follows:—

Table with columns: Killed, Injured, Men, Women, Children, Total. Values: 124, 377, 116, 116, 29, 171.

THE DARDANELLES.

Allies' Land and Naval Guns Busy.

A telegram from Athens to the "Journal" concerning the operations in the Dardanelles, states that the Allies' land and naval guns have been effectively bombarded by the land artillery of the Allies and by the British monitors.

The British landships attacked a portion of the Turkish front, and destroyed several trenches, the occupants of which fled. The fugitives were then destroyed by the fire of the Allied land batteries and machine guns.

The British monitors, which were in the Dardanelles, were busy firing at the Turkish positions, and the heavy Ottoman supplies are concentrated in the Turkish front.

Important damage was caused.—Exchange.

FRENCH VESSEL.

Ship Torpedoed in the Mediterranean.

The steamer Yuma, which was bound for the Mediterranean, was torpedoed in the Mediterranean. The ship was sunk, and the crew were rescued.

The Yuma was a steel twin-screw steamer built at Glasgow in 1914. She was carrying a cargo of wheat and other supplies.

The ship was torpedoed by a German submarine on October 12th. The crew were rescued by the British navy.

The Yuma was the only ship of her class to be torpedoed in the Mediterranean.

The Yuma was built by the Glasgow Shipbuilding Co. Ltd. She was 1,200 tons.

The Yuma was the only ship of her class to be torpedoed in the Mediterranean.

The Yuma was built by the Glasgow Shipbuilding Co. Ltd. She was 1,200 tons.

THE BALKANS.

Serbian Troops Making a Splendid Stand.

RUSSIA'S PLANS.

Rumanian Assistance Against Central Powers.

100,000 ALLIED TROOPS LANDED.

The Austro-German and Bulgarian forces are suffering heavily at the hands of the Serbians, and even the German official message admits a "splendid landing" of the Serbians.

It is said that Russia is planning big simultaneous operations against Varna and Burgas, with the object of landing 100,000 men at Salonika, and it is stated that Greece is ready to receive 100,000 men.

A telegram from Nish to the "Paris" this afternoon says: "The first detachments of the Allied forces have arrived in Macedonia. They were welcomed with the most cordial hospitality."

The Bucharest correspondent of the "Standard" writes: "The Rumanian army has arrived in Macedonia. It is being welcomed with the most cordial hospitality."

A French official message issued through the "Standard" states: "The Rumanian army has arrived in Macedonia. It is being welcomed with the most cordial hospitality."

The Rumanian Premier has announced that he will certainly fight against Bulgaria and the Central Powers.

The German attack on Salonika, which was reported in the Telegraph, official message which, together with other Russian news, was found on page 3, has been followed up by the Austro-Germans to fight after a stubborn battle.

The Russian cavalry showed great courage and passed through three lines of entrenched ranks, scattering the enemy.

In the Donk region all the German attacks were repulsed, while, on the other hand, the Russian forces made progress.

Copenhagen messages report the continuation of British submarine activity in the Baltic, advice from Liden stating that twenty-seven German steamers have been awarded, and that only ten have arrived at their destination.

The German fleet has been destroyed in the past few days.

The Russian Premier is said to have informed the Entente Ministers that he will certainly fight against Bulgaria and the Central Powers.

The German attack on Salonika, which was reported in the Telegraph, official message which, together with other Russian news, was found on page 3, has been followed up by the Austro-Germans to fight after a stubborn battle.

The Russian cavalry showed great courage and passed through three lines of entrenched ranks, scattering the enemy.

In the Donk region all the German attacks were repulsed, while, on the other hand, the Russian forces made progress.

Copenhagen messages report the continuation of British submarine activity in the Baltic, advice from Liden stating that twenty-seven German steamers have been awarded, and that only ten have arrived at their destination.

The German fleet has been destroyed in the past few days.

The Russian Premier is said to have informed the Entente Ministers that he will certainly fight against Bulgaria and the Central Powers.

The German attack on Salonika, which was reported in the Telegraph, official message which, together with other Russian news, was found on page 3, has been followed up by the Austro-Germans to fight after a stubborn battle.

The Russian cavalry showed great courage and passed through three lines of entrenched ranks, scattering the enemy.

In the Donk region all the German attacks were repulsed, while, on the other hand, the Russian forces made progress.

Copenhagen messages report the continuation of British submarine activity in the Baltic, advice from Liden stating that twenty-seven German steamers have been awarded, and that only ten have arrived at their destination.

The German fleet has been destroyed in the past few days.

TO-DAY'S PARLIAMENT.

PLUCKY ACTS. Recognition of Sheffielders' Bravery.

LADY'S AWARD.

FREEDOM OF THE SEAS.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTION.

THE BALKANS.

THE AGREEMENT.

Russians to Land at Varna and Burgas.

RUSSIA'S PLANS.

100,000 ALLIED TROOPS LANDED.

THE DARDANELLES.

Allies' Land and Naval Guns Busy.

FRENCH VESSEL.

Ship Torpedoed in the Mediterranean.

THE BALKANS.

Serbian Troops Making a Splendid Stand.

RUSSIA'S PLANS.

Rumanian Assistance Against Central Powers.

100,000 ALLIED TROOPS LANDED.

THE DARDANELLES.

Allies' Land and Naval Guns Busy.

FRENCH VESSEL.

Ship Torpedoed in the Mediterranean.

THE BALKANS.

Serbian Troops Making a Splendid Stand.

RUSSIA'S PLANS.

Rumanian Assistance Against Central Powers.

There was a welcome departure from the usual routine of the House of Commons this afternoon. The House was opened by the Lord Mayor (Mr. C. W. White) who read the Declaration of the House of Commons in recognition of the bravery of the Sheffielders. The first recipient was Miss Clara Douglas, who was awarded the Royal Victoria Medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The second recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The third recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The fourth recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The fifth recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The sixth recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The seventh recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The eighth recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The ninth recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district. The tenth recipient was Mrs. M. G. Douglas, who was awarded the same medal for her services in the Sheffield district.