Stamford and Rutland Infirmary.—Donation from the parish of Burton Coggles 1*l.* 1*s.*

The late Mr. W. R. Dalton, of St. Martin's, bequeathed the sum of 10*l.* to the Stamford Institution, for the purchase of books.

At a vestry held yesterday at St. John's church there were two applicants for the office of rate collector for the parish, vacant through the resignation of Mr. Henry Moore, viz., Mr. Reedman, jun., and Mr. Jos. Moore, baker. 25 voted in favour of the latter and 23 for the former. The appointment rests with the Board of Guardians, who invariably sanction the recommendation of the majority of the vestry.

At the Stamford Union Board on Wednesday the clerk announced that 43 applications had been made for the office of master and matron, and that the committee appointed to peruse the testimonials had recommended that four of the couples should be asked to attend the Board on Wednesday next, when the election will take place. The suggestion of the committee was adopted.—The report of pauperism showed 176 inmates—a decrease of 29 as compared with the corresponding week of last year. Out-relief was given to 802 individuals, at a cost of 96*l.* 8*s.* 9*d.*; corresponding week of last year 823, at a cost of 95*l.* 18*s.* 1*d.*—Tramps are beginning to perambulate in increased numbers: 55 were received into the casual ward last week.

Stamford Midlent Fair.—There was a very good show of sheep at this fair on Monday last, especially of lambhogs, but owing to the scarcity of keep sales were rather slow: good prices, however, were realised. The average price of lambhogs was from 52*s.* to 56*s.*; but a pen of exceedingly good animals, belonging to Mr. Parkinson, of Ryhall, sold for 66*s.* per head, and a pen of very good hogs belonging to Mr. Hodgkin, of Wittering, made 60*s.* The price of fat sheep in the wool, of which there was also a large number, was from 9½*d.* to 10*d.* per pound: for a pen of 100 fat clipped sheep Mr. Dainty, of Easton, obtained 63*s.* per head. The supply of beasts, both fat and store, was unusually large for this fair; the trade, however, was not brisk for either. Store beasts averaged from 18*l.* to 20*l.*, and fat animals fetched from 9*s.* 4*d.* to 10*s.* per stone. Mr. Dainty sold four fat beasts at 37*l.* 10*s.*, 37*l.*, 36*l.*, and 34*l.* respectively.

Stamford pleasure fair this year seems to have rather degenerated so far as the character of the exhibitions is concerned. There is this time no collection of wild beasts; and the lead has been left—perhaps to the Marionettes, although there are "Art Treasures from London" calculated, it appears, to "open the windows of the soul" and afford "food for the mind;" an "astounding exhibition of mirth, magic, and mystery;" a circus; a living skeleton, a fat boy, and a "prize" lady; and a numerous progeny of a more humble and less conspicuous family. There are the usual bazaars for the sale of toys and fancy articles; steam roundabouts whistling and whirling; rifle ranges and portrait "studios;" and a novel establishment for the supply of "hot green peas with mint!"

A very respectable comedy company, new to Stamford, has commenced a short season at the theatre, under the management of Mr. Jos. Widdell. Up to Wednesday night they had not been very liberally supported: indeed on one evening the doors were closed for want of an audience.

The quarterly contracts for provisions for the Stamford and Rutland Infirmary were made on Tuesday last as follows:—Mr. E. Conington, beef and mutton, 8*s.* 10*d.* per stone; Mr. F. Mitchell, bread 5½*d.* per 4lb. loaf, flour 1*s.* 7*d.* per stone.
