Friday's Express.

LONDON, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29.

The great political barometer, the money market, has again become steady, with the promise of continuing so. Four per cent. seems to be re-established as the rate of interest in the market, and on these terms a great deal of business is daily transacted. Now that the dissolution of Parliament is no longer talked of, it is thought improbable that any political event will agitate the Stock Exchange for some months to come.

Stamford, Friday, Sept. 30.

DIED.

On Friday last, Mr. R. Goodyer, of Peterboro', aged 72.

At Rushton Hall, Northamptonshire, on Friday last, Barbara Maria second daughter of the late Hon. Wm. Cockayne.

On the 22d inst., at Allexton, Leicestershire, the Rev. Chas. Fenwick, M.A., Curate of that parish, and Vicar of Slawston in the same county, in the patronage of the Earl of Cardigan.—The departure of this truly respected clergyman was awfully sudden—he had just retired to rest, when he was seized with an apoplectic fit, which carried him off almost instantaneously. With a mind highly cultivated by literary attainments, he possessed a heart deeply impressed with the weighty responsibility of his ministerial character and office: and while he faithfully pointed out the way to eternal happiness, the purity, meekness, and benevolence of his life presented a bright example of the sincerity of the doctrines which he taught.—His memory will long be affectionately cherished in the parish which for the last seven years has been the scene of his faithful and laborious services.

On the 17th inst., John Bakewell, Gent. of Castle Donington, in his 75th year.

The resolutions of a general meeting of subscribers to the Stamford and Rutland Infirmary, held on Saturday last, being advertised in another column of our paper, it would be sufficient to refer to them to show what business was done at the meeting,—but we cannot deny ourselves the pleasure of particularly adverting to a noble donation to the institution which was signified by letter from Sir Gerard Noel: the worthy Baronet desired to have his name put down for the sum of a thousand pounds; and he accompanied this most liberal gift with some excellent suggestions with reference to the arrangements for the building of the infirmary.—The meeting, on a comparison of the plans which had been submitted by the architects, gave a preference to Mr. Gandy's; and the edifice, which is to be in the gothic style, to harmonise with the general character of the buildings in the town, is to be speedily commenced.

On Monday the 26th inst. (the day after his admission to Priest's orders) the Rev. Geo. Osborne, jun., was instituted by the Lord Bishop of Lincoln to the Rectory of Stainby with Gunby, in this county, on the resignation of his father: Patron, the Earl of Harborough.

Yesterday the tolls at Tinwell bar, near this place, were let by auction for three years, to Wm. Blanchard of Bourn, at the sum of 380*l*. per annum, being an advance of 36*l*. per annum on the former letting.

A valuable collection of books, we understand, will be sold during the auction at the Vineyard-house, Peterborough.

A company is formed in the metropolis for the purpose of forwarding live stock to the London market by steam-packets, wherever local circumstances admit of such an arrangement.—A deputation visited Boston last week, and we understand, having taking the advice of Mr. Thorley, pilot master of that port, as to the present state of the river, have determined that the design is practicable at Lincoln and Boston, and therefore an anxious interest is excited amongst graziers by the measure.

On Sunday a very excellent sermon was preached in the parish church of Boston in aid of the funds of the General Dispensary in that town, by the Rev. Thomas Hollway, who selected his text from the 10th chapter of St. Luke's Gospel, 36th and 37th verses:—'Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? And he said, He that showed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go and do thou likewise.'—The Rev. Preacher stated that the number of individuals who had participated in the benefits of the Dispensary during the 30 years it had been established, amounted to upwards of 9000, and in so many instances might the contributors to the charity be considered as having obeyed the injunctions of their Divine Master, and gone forth to relieve the sufferings of their neighbours. The sum collected after the sermon was about 15*l*.

The General Baptist Chapel lately erected at Sutterton was opened on Friday last, on which occasion appropriate sermons were delivered to crowded congregations, by the Rev. Messrs. Jarrom, of Wisbech, Stevenson, of Loughborough, and Rogers, of Fleet; Messrs. Payne, of Barrowden, Hinmers (particular Baptist), of Boston, and Kingsford, of Lincoln, assisted in the devotional parts of the services. The collections were extremely liberal, amounting to upwards of 38*l*.

On Sunday afternoon last, between the hours of two and five, the house of Mr. Tunnard, of Pinchbeck, was broken into, and a silver tankard and pint, with about 20*l*. in money, stolen therefrom. The theft was committed while the family were at chapel; and therefore it is presumed the thieves do not reside a hundred miles from the spot.—The frequent recurrence of robberies under similar circumstances, renders it absolutely necessary to always leave some one of a family at home.

An inquest was held at Whaplode on the 21st inst., by Samuel Edwards, Gent. coroner, on view of the body of Rebecca Eason, a child aged 5 years, who had been diseased from its birth and was unable to walk or to articulate, and from its size did not appear to be more than a few weeks old:—The mother had been for many years in the habit of taking opium in very large quantities, (nearly a quarter of an ounce in the day,) and it is supposed from that circumstance had entailed a disease on her child which caused its death:—it was reduced to a mere skeleton, and had been in that emaciated state nearly from its birth.—Verdict, "Died by the visitation of God, but that from the great quantity of opium taken by the mother during her pregnancy of the said child and of her suckling it, she had greatly injured its health."—It appeared in evidence that the mother of the deceased had had five children—that she began to take opium after the birth and weaning of her first child, which was and is remarkably healthy—and that her four [illegible] lingered and died in the same emaciated state as the child which was the subject of this investigation.—The mother is under 30 years of age: she was severely censured by the coroner for indulging in so pernicious a practice.

An inquest was held by the same coroner at Bourn on the 21st inst., on view of the body of Wm. Pridmore, aged two years, who whilst his father and mother were drinking their tea on Sunday afternoon, unobserved drank some hot tea out of the spout of the tea-pot, which so dreadfully scalded the mouth and throat of the deceased that he died about the same hour on the following afternoon, after lingering in great agony.—Verdict, scalded to death accidentally.

A match at cricket was played on Tuesday last at Manton, between the Egleton and Manton club and the Ayston and Ridlington club, which terminated in favor of the former, nine wickets to go down.

Mr. Ald. Marston is chosen Mayor of Leicester for the year ensuing.

Spalding fair on Monday was well supplied with cattle of every description, which met with a brisk demand. The day being fine, the pleasure fair was very much crowded to a late hour.

At Northampton cheese fair last week the prices of the best kind varied from 63*s*. to 68*s*.; one dairy reached 70*s*. 2d or two-meal cheese, 42*s*. to 48*s*.

On Thursday night the 22d inst. about 12 o'clock, the gardener of H. H. Oddie, Esq. of Barnwell, near Oundle, while watching the garden (which had several times been robbed) armed with a gun, heard a noise in the hen-roost, and proceeding towards the place, saw a man with a quantity of fowls thrown over his shoulders: the gardener immediately desired the fellow to surrender, upon which he threw down the fowls and ran off: the gardener then fired at him, but it is not known whether the shot took effect. The villain had tied up sixteen couples of fowls, ready to carry off.

PASSING Half NOTES.—Some time ago a parcel containing halves of Bank of England and country notes was stolen from a coach-office in London, and from the following circumstance it appears that the thieves are now endeavouring to pass these halves; we would therefore caution the public against their artifices.—A short time ago, a respectable gunsmith in Birmingham received an order, purporting to come from a gentleman of rank and respectability, for two double-barrelled guns, to be sent to Stony Stratford, and enclosing at the same time the halves of two 10*l*. and two 5*l*. country notes as part of payment, promising to send the remaining halves on the receipt of the guns. The guns were accordingly sent, but the second halves not making their appearance, an enquiry was made, and it was discovered that the halves remitted formed a part of the stolen parcel.

Committed to Northampton county gaol, (by the Rev. H. Y. Smythies and J. Parsons,) Mary Chadband, charged with setting fire to a barn and other buildings and property belonging to Wm. Allen, at Eye.

At Newark, on Saturday se'nnight, Miss Anne Truswell Cartledge, in her 32d year.

On Sunday se'nnight, at her residence, Bollom Hall, near East Retford, in her 78th year, Mrs. Harrison, much and deservedly regretted. In her the poor have lost an invaluable friend, and suffering humanity a kind support in the hour of affliction.

At East Retford, on Thursday the 22d inst., Mr. Jonathan Smith, aged 36, for many years a respectable grocer and liquor-merchant at that place.

On Monday was committed to the house of correction at Louth, (by the Rev. Ed. Booth,) Wm. Meeds, of Boston, labourer, for stealing a shirt, the property of John Swinn, carpenter, of Spilsby.

Newark cheese market on Wednesday was well supplied, and the cheese in general fetched good prices—best new milk from 76*s*. to 80*s*.; two-meal 56*s*. to 60*s*. The quantity of live stock offered for sale exceeded that of any former year, and several beasts were sold with a trifling reduction in price.

EAST RETFORD, Sept. 28.—The hop plantations in the North Clays have now in general the appearance of confusion and desolation; the poles which so lately supported the dependent and beautiful bine, are thrown into heaps for another year. The account of the quantities of hops picked vary exceedingly, but we believe four hundred weight per acre will be about the aggregate average. A plantation situate at East Markham, the propeety of John Kirke, Esq. of this place, is supposed to exceed in productiveness any other of the same extent within several miles. As to quality, all the hops are excellent. We believe that those which have been already weighed off, have not in weight reached the anticipation of the different growers, which can be accounted for from the lateness of the time at which they got into burr, as well as from the injury they afterwards received.

On Monday last W. A. Wrightson, Esq. (son of Wm. Wrightson, Esq. of Cusworth Hall, near Doncaster) canvassed the burgesses of East Retford for their votes and interest, and we understand met with such success as promises to ensure his election.—W. A. Madocks, Esq. has been very coldly received on his canvass, and is believed to have withdrawn in despair.

On Monday se'nnight the house of Peter Dickenson, Esq. of West Retford, Notts, presented a scene of gaiety and festivity seldom surpassed, in consequence of his son and only child attaining his seventh year: the bells cheered the neighbourhood with merry peals during the day, and in the evening upwards of one hundred persons partook of a most sumptuous and elegant supper.

On Wednesday the 14th inst. as one of the gamekeepers of his Grace the Duke of Newcastle was on his usual perambulations, he observed a large body soaring in the air, which afterwards descended with great velocity to the surface of the water, as if intent upon its prey, and immediately it rose again, on which he shot at and killed it. When taken out of the lake, it proved to be an eagle, in natural history termed the Sea Eagle, or Osprey: it measures from the tip of each wing, when extended, upwards of five feet, and from the beak to the tip of the tail two feet.

Mr. George Overton, of Brigg, has a blackbird in its 25th year: the bird has got a white tail, and in a little time, as it seems, will be ornamented with a white head and neck, through his advanced age.

We understand from a gentleman who visited Doncaster races, that the depredations committed exceeded all former precedent: the instruments employed were chiefly little ragged boys, who, under pretence of selling lists of the horses, picked the pockets of the unsuspecting purchasers, and rapidly threading their way through the crowd, delivered the plunder to their employers. Nearly a hundred of these boys were apprehended by the police and examined, but we understand that nothing was elicited to criminate any one.

The Duke of St. Alban's, Lady C. Beauclerk, and Mrs. Coutts, left town on Tuesday for Scotland.

Many of the principal families in this county attended the late musical festival at York, and entered into the gaiety of the time. In the list of those who are named in the Yorkshire papers as having appeared at the grand fancy ball we observe the following:—Sir W. Ingilby in a court dress, and Lady Ingilby as a Spanish lady of rank; Colonel Sibthorp was dressed as Canton, in the Clandestine Marriage; Lady Nelthorpe was in an old English court dress; Miss Dymoke, a ball dress of tulle, highly ornamented with bunches of flowers, and tasteful head dress; Miss Bell Legard was attired as Rebecca of York, in the novel of Ivanhoe; Mr. Hutton, ball dress; Rev. E. Otter, a Spanish lady; Captain Tathwell, uniform R.H.G.B.; Colonel Cholmeley, a Knight Companion of the Bath; Miss and Miss Albinia Dalton, Highland lasses; Mr. J. W. Barton, and Mr. Wm. Graburn, in the costume of the Brocklesby hunt; Mrs. Graburn, in a fancy dress; Mr. Henry Harrison, in Mynheer Vandonderdonk, a Dutch mourner; Miss Graburn, and Miss H. Graburn, of Kingsforth, attired as ladies of the sixteenth century; Mr. Robert Graburn was a Russian nobleman; &c. &c. &c.

The parish of Stapleford, Notts, having a great extent of road to repair, and much damage being caused by over-loaded coal waggons proceeding thereon, persons are now employed to watch, and lay information against the owners or drivers of any carriages drawn by more horses than the Act allows. An information against a respectable farmer, was last week withdrawn, on the payment of costs, on account of some exculpatory circumstances.

On Saturday last Samuel Steemson, of Norwood End, Derbyshire, was committed to the house of correction at Southwell, (by the Rev. J. Rudd,) charged with stealing from a field at Perlthorpe, near East Retford, a smock frock, silk handkerchief, and red waistcoat, the property of John Outram and Jos. On Monday last an inquest was held on the body of Mr. Mills, of the Sun Hotel, Cambridge, who was found early in the morning, in his kitchen, with his throat cut. It appeared from the evidence of the surgeon and others, that the deceased had been for some time in a desponding state of mind; on Sunday night it was with difficulty he could be got to bed, where he did not remain long, and having seen his coach off at five in the morning, it appeared he had retired to the place above mentioned, and perpetrated the deed with a knife. Verdict, lunacy.

SUGAR.—The report this morning respecting the stock of Sugar, compared with last year, attracted great attention; it is 19,200 casks deficient: in consequence of this return, the sellers of Sugar immediately asked a further advance of 1*s*, and as the day proceeded the advance was fully realized. We estimate the sales to-day at 1000 hhds; scarcely any Jamaica brown Sugars offer under 70*s*; Barbadoes 72*s a* 76*s* 6*d*.

There is again a great demand for fine goods this morning, and the prices are 1*s* higher than last week; low goods are without variation.—Molasses brisk at 35*s*; the business reported in Bastards is extensive, and at very high prices.

HOPS.—The Hop picking goes forward rapidly, and the produce appears to be less than the very lowest estimate; the duty has fallen to 22,000*l*: the prices of Hops are advancing; there would be considerable business, but the holders do not appear anxious to sell.—New mid. Kent Pockets, 21*l a* 23*l*; Sussex Pockets, 18*l a* 21*l*; Worcester ditto, 17*l* 17*s a* 19*l* 19*s*.—1824 Kent Pockets, 16*l a* 17*l* 17*s*; Sussex ditto, 15*l* 15*s a* 16*l* 16*s*; 1823 and 1822 Pockets, 11*l* 4*s a* 12*l* 12*s*; Old Olds, 6*l* 6*s a* 7*l* 7*s*.

HEMP, FLAX, and TALLOW.—The Tallow market is a shade lower, the new 38*s* to 38*s* 3*d*.—Hemp is rather higher, the new 42*l*.—In Flax there is no variation.

RUM, BRANDY, and HOLLANDS.—The extensive contract with Government last week, nearly 1500 puncheons, was taken by one house, at a fraction above 1*s* 10¼*d*: as this price was lower than generally anticipated, it has the effect of suspending all business in Rums; we have not heard of a contract since, except a parcel of under proof Leewards, landed in 1821, at 1*s* 10*d*; the quotation of proof Leewards is nominally 1*s* 11*d a* 2*s*.—Brandy is without variation; best marks 3*s* 2*d a* 3*s* 3*d*, and very few sales reported.—Geneva 1*s* 11*d* on the quay.

OILS.—Fish Oils are all a shade dearer: part of a London cargo of Whale Oil to arrive has been sold at 30*l*; no sellers now under 32*l*, and of old 31*l*. Sperm Oil is also dearer; four cargoes have been taken by the trade to arrive at 50*l*; some inferior Oil sold last week at prices from 43*l* to 50*l* 5*s*; for good Oil no sellers now under 52*l*.—Seed Oils steady; Gallipoli is considered better, though little is doing in that article.

HUNTINGDON, Saturday Sept. 24.—Wheat 35s to 41s per load; Barley 33s to 41s per qr.; Oats 20s to 25s; Beans 41s to 43s.

LYNN, Tuesday, Sept. 27.—We had no alteration in our market to-day, and prices must be called precisely as last week.

WISBECH, Satur. Sept. 24.—We had a small show of Wheat to-day, but the condition not so good as last week; dry was taken off freely at last quotations; in other grain no variation. Brown Mustard-seed about 1s per bushel higher.—Wheat 62s 7d; Oats 24s 5d; Rye 33s; Beans 40s; Peas 40s. (Average.)

NORWICH, Saturday Sept. 24.—Our supply of Wheat was only moderate, and such was very brisk at last week's prices. Barley was not in great supply; some very select parcels did reach 42s per quarter.—Beans and Peas in short supply, and the demand brisk. Oats very scarce, and much wanted. Upon the whole the market is certainly looking upwards. Flour, brisk sale.—Wheat, White 68s to 70s, Red ditto 60s to 63s; Barley, malting 38s to 42s, grinding stained 34s to 36s, Grey Peas 44s to 46s; Oats 26s to 30s; Beans 40s to 46s; Flour 53s per sack.

NEWARK, Wednes. Sept. 28.—Wheat, old 68s to 72s; new 65s to 70s; Barley, new 46s to 49s; Oats, old 26s to 31s; new 26s to 30s; Rye, old 44s to 46s; new 46s to 48s; Beans 48s to 52s.

GAINSBORO', Tuesday Sept. 27.—Our market was steady for all kinds of grain, at last week's prices.—Return: Wheat 455 qrs, 1538*l* 0s 7¼d (average 67s 7¼d); Barley 188 qrs, 421*l* 6s 0d (aver. 44s 9¾d); Oats 79 qrs, 101*l* 8s 6d (aver. 25s 8d); Rye 12 qrs, 24*l*. 12s 0d (aver. 41s); Beans 77 qrs, 187*l* 2s (aver. 48s 7d).

CORN-EXCHANGE, MARK-LANE.

MONDAY, September 26.—To-day, at the opening, the show of Wheat was chiefly by land samples from Essex, small in quantity but mostly fine, and caught up eagerly as such at 74s to 76s, or in some cases as high as 78s per quarter, which was an advance of from 1s to 2s on last Monday's quotation, but these prices were not obtainable afterwards, in the face of a heavy arrival from Suffolk and an almost overwhelming abundance from Kent, of Wheat and Barley especially, with no scarcity of Beans and Peas from that quarter.—Peas of both sorts are 2s dearer; Boilers at one time went as high as 70s, but looked downwards afterwards.—Old Beans are dearer, whilst those of 1825 rather declined in value.—Barley is 2s cheaper, the malting demand not being able to take off what comes up just now, owing to the mildness of the season; second-rate runs scarcely exceed 42s per quarter.—Oats are dearer to-day, having few here of an approved quality.—Red Clover-seed is also dearer, but Winter Tares dull and drooping. There was briskness in the Flour trade to-day, which supports the last stated price—60s per sack.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 28.—Some grain which remained over from Monday having been added to by pretty considerable arrivals since, there was rather a large supply for this day's market: Monday's prices, however, were maintained for Wheat, Oats, and Beans, and White Peas were 1s to 2s per quarter dearer; but Barley was dull of sale, and the turn cheaper.—The arrivals this week amount to 6200 quarters of English Wheat, and 850 of Foreign; 3500 of English Barley, and 3800 of Foreign; 15,460 quarters of English Oats, 1460 of Irish, and 400 of Foreign; and 5800 sacks of English Flour.

SMITHFIELD, (per st. of 8lb. sinking offal.)

MONDAY, Sept. 26.—The weather being cooler, the trade in general was more lively on Friday, and a shade better for Beef, Mutton, and Lamb. To-day the ample supply and the warmth of the morning have contributed to make the Beef trade heavy; the general quality being also but middling, there is no improvement from this day se'nnight. Mutton supports our currency; and a few complete Downs & Half-breds have made 2d per st. more. Good Lamb is rather dearer than last Monday.
