FORE-WORD.

THE necessity of securing the permanency of our ancient Parochial Registers becomes increasingly important every year. The fact that so much of the history of families—and what is national history but the accumulated history of families?—is dependent almost entirely on the existence of these Registers, makes it a matter of urgent importance that steps should be taken in every Parish to have these Registers accurately copied and printed. It is gratifying to know that Societies are being formed in many localities to secure this laudable object; still, in most cases, the preservation of the documents of individual parishes depends on local effort. The Parish of Llansannan has been particularly fortunate in this respect. This volume owes its existence to the munificence of one of its inhabitants—JOHN MORRIS, Esq., Lletty'r Eos, High Sheriff of Denbighshire for the current year. It was at his suggestion and expense that the Registers were copied, and he is responsible for the publication of this volume. It is hard to express adequately all that is due to such enlightened and generous patriotism, which expends treasure so lavishly on every scheme that tends in any way to the success and wellbeing of his dearly loved native parish. It has its appropriate reward in a sense of love earned and of good done.

A simple statement of facts will show the timeliness of the present undertaking. The earliest record in the custody of the Rector of this Parish extends only to 1727. Knowing that the chief interest attaching to the Parish lies in its history at an earlier date than this, I appealed to HENRY A. CLEAVER, Esq., our Diocesan Registrar, for permission to copy earlier entries connected with the Parish which he might have in his custody. Mr. CLEAVER at once allowed me most generously to copy all the Llansannan entries in his charge, and very kindly placed a room at my disposal for that purpose. I found that the earliest entries referring to Llansannan were dated 1667, but unfortunately the entries for several years are missing, and others are so blurred by age, or damaged by wear and tear, that it was impossible to obtain a complete transcript of the entries for the years 1667-1726. It was compulsory in bygone years on the parochial clergy to send annually copies of the yearly records of Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials. These copies were made on loose sheets, the sheets from the parishes in each rural deanery being tied or otherwise fastened together in annual bundles. When we bear in mind the indifferent quality of the paper on which the entries were copied, and the fact that sometimes eighteen or twenty sheets were tied together in one bundle, it requires no great stretch of imagination to realise the precarious existence of the sheets and the consequent risk of loss through accident or carelessness. The paleness of the ink and the ignorance of the copyists also added to the difficulty of transcription.

The following quotation from an interesting article by the Ven. Archdeacon Thomas in the St. Asaph Diocesan Calendar for 1904 throws much light on the subject of Parochial Registers:—"It was in 1538 (30 Henry VIII.) that Thomas Cromwell procured the enactment of a Law that Parochial Registers should be kept of Baptisms, Marriages, and Burials; but no regulation was then laid down for a suitable form or permanent material for the record. In 1597, however, it was ordered that every parish should provide parchment books, into which the entries should be transcribed from the earlier paper books, and copies of these sent yearly to the Bishop of the Diocese. In 1603 this order was embodied in the 70th Canon.

"Although there are in this diocese several Registers that date back to the middle of the XVIth. century, there is only one that is complete from their institution, viz., that of the small hill parish of Gwaenysgor, near Rhyl, which begins with the year 1538 and is continuous to the present time. From a memorandum in that Register we learn the interesting detail that Archbishop Laud at his Metropolitan Visitation, held at St. Asaph, 17th May, 1636, ordained that 'the name of the mother of every child, as well as that of the father, should be written in the Register books of the parishes.' In 1645 the Directory (for Public Worship) ordered that Births as well as Baptisms should be entered; and in 1653 the Commonwealth Parliament enacted that the Registers should be placed in the hands of (Lay) Registers, and that they should keep the accounts from that date, and not the clergy, unless either of them should happen to be elected to the office, as was sometimes the case. The Lists of Registers show that only a small proportion of the books were restored in 1660; and an examination of those that survived proves that where the period is not left blank, as at Llanerfyl, the new 'Registers' were for the most part of a very illiterate type, and their tenure characterized by the entry of the birth only and the omission of the baptism.

“In 1667 (18 Charles II.) an Act was passed to ensure ‘burial in woollen,’ and the next year another requiring an affidavit to that effect to be entered. The intention of the act was to foster and promote the woollen industry, and the fine for disobedience was five pounds.

“In 1694 (6 William III.) a tax was imposed for five years on all marriages, births, and burials, and the collectors were armed with free access to the Registers for the purpose of assessing the impost, but it was not renewed in 1700.

“To the end of the first quarter of the 18th century the entries were almost invariably made in Latin, with the exception, of course, of the Commonwealth period; but about the year 1733 we find it was superseded by English.

“Down to 1753 all the entries were made in the same book in chronological order; but in that year ‘Hardwicke’s Act’ prescribed the form of marriage entries and the record of the publication of the banns, and thenceforward marriages were registered in a separate and special book.

“In 1783 a duty of threepence was imposed on every entry in the Registers; but it was repealed the following year.¹

“In 1812 ‘Rose’s Act’ ordered the entries for Baptism and Burials to be made in the form still in use, and in separate books.

¹ This explains the insertion of the word “paid” in the entries for the last quarter of that year in the following Registers.—R. E.

“ It only remains to add that in 1836 an Act was passed for the civil registration of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, and for an alteration in the form of Marriage entries ; and an amusing illustration of the perplexity felt in filling in the column for the condition [Bachelor or Spinster] of the married couple occurs in the Register of Whittington, where the puzzled curate entered, ‘ The man fat, the woman rather lean ! ’ ”

With reference to the above interesting quotation, it may be observed that the term “ By Banns ” first occurs in the following registers in 1743—ten years before the passing of “ Hardwicke’s Act.” The names of both parents in baptismal entries began to be generally entered in this parish in 1749—113 years after Laud’s Visitation. With regard to the registration of the baptism of illegitimate children, the custom at first was to enter the father’s name only, afterwards those of both parents, and afterwards the present practice of entering only the mother’s name was adopted. Up to 1752 the civil year began on the 25th of March ; after that date on the 1st of January.

Historically, the chief interest connected with the Parish of Llansannan seems to lie in the sixteenth century, and it is noteworthy that this interest is chiefly literary. Whatever distinction may have been won by Llansannanites in other fields is now forgotten or unknown, but no lover of Welsh literature can ever forget the names of Tudur Aled, Gruffydd Hiraethog, and William Salesbury. It would be difficult to find so eminent a trio of contemporaries in any other parish or century. Of the three, Salesbury undoubtedly stands first on the score not only of social position but also of the extent and priceless value of his literary attainments. As in the history of the Israelites, God chose the sacrifice of the lay-prophet Elijah on Carmel as the token of His supremacy over the false gods whose corrupt religion alienated the hearts of His people from Him for a time, so in our own native land, God was pleased to bless the labours of the lay-Churchman William Salesbury to overthrow the errors of Rome and to teach our forefathers the better way. The record of his literary work, as given in Archdeacon Thomas's learned book on "The Life and work of Bishop Davies and William Salesbury," proves not only the extent of Salesbury's attainments, but also his untiring energy and diligence. It will suffice here to enumerate his most important writings: "Oll Synnwyr Pen Kembero;" the Prymer, Welsh and English Dictionary, Llyth a Ban, New Testament, and the Welsh Prayer Book, besides "The baterie of the Pope's Botereulx, commonly called the highe Altare. Compiled by W. S. in the yere of our Lorde. 1550"—a defence of the reformed faith—for he had been brought up in the Roman faith, which he forsook during his residence at Oxford. In 1550 he published "A briefe and a playne introduction teaching how to pronounce the letters in the British tong [now com'enly called Walsh] whereby an Englishman shal not only w^h ease read the said tong rightly: but markyng ye same wel, it shall be a meane for him with one labour and diligence to attaine to the true and natural pronounciation of other expediente and most excellent languages." When the late A. J. Ellis, President of the London Philological Society in the sixties, was working up the subject of English phonetics, he relied largely on this "Introduction" of Salesbury's to fix the pronounciation of the English language in the sixteenth century.

Very few traces of William Salesbury's family can be found in our Parish Registers, probably because our records do not extend far enough. Is it possible that his elder brother, Robert, was a Sinecure Rector of Llansannan (1537), Vicar of Corwen, and Sinecure Rector of Llanrwst? A Robert Salusbury lived at Plas Madoc, in Llanfairtalhaiarn Parish, but on the confines of Llansannan, and a Peter Salesbury, one of the signatories of William Salesbury's bond for £100, lived at Penclogor contemporaneously with W. Salesbury; but what, if any, relationship existed between them and the Squire of Caedu is not clear. Salesbury's daughter Gwen married Hugh ap David ap John, a yeoman living at Deunant. The Salesburys also intermarried with the Dyffryn Aled family. As far as the latest entries referring to the name Salusbury in our registers show, those bearing the name occupied a humble or a comparatively humble social position. The name is not found in the parish now, but still prevails in the adjoining parish of Llannefydd. Still the name of Salesbury is inseparably associated with Llansannan, and can never cease to be venerated by all who cherish the historical traditions of the parish. In the Memorial erected in the Cathedral yard of St. Asaph to those who were directly or indirectly concerned in the translation of the Welsh Bible, William Salesbury's name holds an honoured place. His name is also commemorated, in company with four other illustrious Llansannan men—Tudur Aled, Henry Rees, Gwilym Hiraethog, and Iorwerth Glan Aled—on the Memorial erected in the village of Llansannan a few years ago.

Reference has been made to the disappearance of the name of Salesbury from the Parish. In this respect it is by no means exceptional, as the following list of names found in the registers, and no longer in use in the parish, will clearly show:—Burchinshaw (variously spelt, e.g., Byrchinsha, Byrchins, Burchins, Byrchinshaw, Birchinshaw, Burchinshaw, Birchenshaw, and Burchenshaw), Joyson, Murreh (? Murray), Maesmor, Trevallin or Trevalyn, Conway, Dryhurst or Dryers, Pasenage, Posnet, Bedward [ab Edward], Maddocks, Patrick, Probert [ap Robert], Matthew, Protheroe or Prydderch [ap Rhydderch], Carlisle [otherwise spelt Carlyle—by a strange coincidence, the first of that name was called Thomas], Bromley, Bengan [ab Eŋgan], Kenrick or Kynthrig, Hues [Hughes], Julius Cæsar (!), Rhydderch, Manuel, Nicholas, Hookes, Bartley or Bartle, or Batley, Gittens [Gutto or Griffith], Cumson [Cumpston], Millington, &c. The reader will observe the great and apparently arbitrary variations in spelling the name Burchinshaw. Some of them may have been due to affectation or a too literal copying of local pronunciation, which would naturally attempt to cut a long name short. It is said that some of the Burchinshaw money is now in Chancery, and that a certain claimant to it was non-suited because he happened not to spell the name in the only way known to the officials!

With regard to place names, the registers bear evidence to the fact that many names of farms or houses have been lost or merged in others. A casual survey of the parish proves that many an ancient home is now only a heap of ruins. This applies not only to cottages, but to more pretentious buildings, like the ruins now standing on the land of Penybank, and which are reputed locally to be the site of an old religious house, but which Archdeacon Thomas surmises may have been the ancestral home of the Salesburies. The following list contains names no longer known in the parish :—Llwyn-y-gibwst [the site of the present National Schools], Hafod-y-mai, Bodliw, Werddon, Werddon bach, Llys y Brenin, Gogun siow [otherwise Cocun-shaw and Cockunshaw], Gegyn Ucha, Tan-y-dderwen, &c. One adventurous scribe, apparently a Cardiganshire man, has changed the familiar Gerdden into Gogerddan. The name Coedoros seems to have afforded considerable scope for the lively imaginations of those responsible for the entries in different years, as it figures as Coedoros, Coedorros, Coedyros, Coedyrros, and Coedoerus. Possibly the form Coedyros or Coedyrros approximates most nearly to the original form — Coed-y-rhos — corresponding to the natural features of the locality where it is situated. The name of the township Rhydeidion is first found correctly spelt in an entry dated April 16, 1762. The ordinary spelling—Rhydigion—shows that the word was pronounced in olden times as it is now by the natives.

The large number of Baptismal and Burial entries occurring in the earlier years of these Registers suggests very plainly that the population of the parish at that time must have been considerably larger than it is at present. The earliest figures to which I have access refer to the year 1801, when the population numbered 1143, made up of 557 males and 586 females. In 1811, there were 582 males and 639 females, total 1221 ; in 1821, 636 males and 675 females, total 1311 ; and in 1831 the total was 1372.

In an interesting note written on the cover of the Register of Baptisms, 1813—1887, by the Rev. W. Jones, Curate in charge of the Parish, it is stated under date May 28th, 1821 : "There have been 16 Males, 15 Females Baptized in the Chapel the last 10 years."

Apart from the decrease affecting all agricultural parishes owing to depression, the decrease in this parish is largely due to the fact that the old copper and lead mines have ceased working. In 1841 a large number of miners were employed here. It is said that from fifty to sixty men were employed in the Dyffryn Aled Mine, in addition to those employed in the mines at Nant-y-plwm, Forest, Foel, and other places in the parish, whereas in 1851 three-fourths of the men had been dismissed. This cause alone would well account for the great decrease of population.

As a matter possibly of more than local interest, I may quote another unauthorized entry :—"April 1st, 1847 : Deep Snow at Llansannan. The Snow Storm commenced between 3 and 4 o'clock a.m. and has continued without intermission until this moment, i.e. 11 o'clock a.m. P. Williams, Vicar of Llansannan."

It only remains for me to add that I have not attempted to correct any mistakes found in the entries, but have faithfully copied the exact form of each entry just as it occurs in the books. It might have seemed desirable to maintain a uniformly correct spelling throughout, but that would have destroyed the value of this volume as an exact transcript of the parochial records as they actually exist in the registers.

THREE TERRIERS.

Three Terriers,

A Terrier of the Houses, Out-Houses, Glebe, Tithes and Modus's belonging to the Parish Church of Llansannan in the Deanery of Rhos, and Diocese of St. Asaph.

- 1—There is a House called Glan Aled built upon the Glebe by the Reverend Thomas Lloyd M.A., the present Incumbent, in which below stairs there are a Kitchen, a Parlour, a Cellar, and two Butteries and above stairs there are four Rooms, a Closet, and a Garret,
- 2—There is one out-house wch. was formerly the dwelling-House, but being all built wth. Timber, Twig, and clay, it is now very much out of Repair, and being at too great a distance from the new built-House, the said Thomas Lloyd intends to pull down the same, and to rebuild it near the sd. new House for a Brew-House, and other conveniences.
- 3—The Glebe consists of a Garden, a small Field called Cae'r Eglwys, and a meadow called Dôl y Sant, bounded upon the north and east-side by the lands of Thos. Byrchinsha of Cae Coed Gent, now in the holding of Charles Hughes, and on the south side by Llwyn y Gibws the lands of Thomas Wynne of Dyffrin-Aled Esqr., and by a Garden belonging to Edward Williams of Ponty Gwyddel Esqr., and upon the west side by the River Aled—Cae'r Eglwys is bounded upon the East-side by a Garden in the holding of Foulk ap Evan, and part of the High way, upon the North and West-side by the lands of Plâs yn y Cornel, and upon ye South-side by a field belonging to Robert Lloyd of Chwibren Gent, now in the holding of Thomas Williams.
- 4—The Tithe is variously divided. The present Incumbent Thomas Lloyd Comp: Rr., and Vicar having 2 Quarters and half a Quarter of all the Tithes issuing from the Townships of Arllwyd, Heskin, Llysaled, Deunant, Archwedlog, Grygor, Chwibren, Pennant Aled, Rhydidion, Tre'rllan, Hendrenennig, and Treflach, and the Reverend Dr. Kilborn having the remaining Quarter and half Quarter of the sd. Tithes by way of sinecure. But over and above the aforesd. Tithes, The said Thomas Lloyd hath and enjoyeth a third part of all manner of Tithes issuing from ye Townships of Postyn and Beidiog, the other two parts in Postyn belonging to the Bishop of St. Asaph, as likewise one part in Beidiog, the other part (excepting the wooll, lambs, and other small Tithes thereof wch. the Bishop hath) being wholly enjoyed by ye Rr. of Gwytherin, but by what claim is not known, it not appearing to be an appurtenance of the Tithe of Gwytheryn, but in all probability belonging formerly to the Bishop of St. Asaph, as the other part now doth.

- 5—There are but two Modus's in the whole Parish, one upon the Demesne of Forrest, in the Township of Archwedlog and Chwibren being the estate of John Lloyd Gent., and the other upon a Tenement called Caedre in the Township of Chwibren being the estate of Wm. Myddelton Esqr., The former paying twenty shillings per annum in lieu of all his Tithe of Corn and hay, and the latter paying three shillings and four pence in lieu of such sd. Tithe issuing from the sd. Tenement.

In witness of the aforesd. Particulars the persons undernamed have hereunto sett their hands this first day of March 1729 | 30.

Thomas Lloyd, Rr. and Vicr.

John Foulkes }
Thos. Byrchinsha } Wardens.

Thomas Byrchinshaw of P'engwern—John Lloyd of Forrest—Robert Foulkes of Wenallt—Robt. Lloyd of Chwibren—John Parry of Hwlford—Robt. Price of Nant y Myrddyn—Thomas Vaughan of Plas yn y Cornel—John Vaughan of Beidiog—Charles Wynne of Penaled.

N.B.—Their names or marks with their own hands are in the original Terrier in the Registry's Office in St. Asaph.

A Terrier of the houses and outhouses, Glebe, Tithes, Modus's &c, belonging to the Parish and Church of Llansannan in the Diocese of St. Asaph and Deanery of Rhos.

- 1—There is an house called Glan Aled twelve yards in length and six yards in breadth built with stones and covered wth. slates at the expence of the Revd. Thomas Lloyd A.M., Clr., the present Incumbent wch. sd. house contains below stairs a Kitchin, a Parlour, a Cellar and two Butteries. The Kitchin is flagged, the Parlour is floored wth. mortar; in the Cellar and Butteries there are earthen floors. All those sd. rooms are plaistered and ceiled; above stairs there are four Rooms, a Closet and a Garret floored with Boards plaistered ceiled. - 2—The Glebe consists of a Field called Dol y Saint with a small Garden taken out of it and an other Field called Cae'r Eglwys wch. sd. Fields according to common computation are supposed to be about four Acres in the whole and fenced with Hedges.
- 3—The Field called Dole y Saint is bounded upon ye North and East side by the lands of Thomas Birchinshaw late of Cae Coed Gent now in ye holding of Charles Hughes, and on the South side by Llwyn y Gibws ye lands of Thomas Wynne late of Duffrynaled Esqr., and by a Garden belonging to Edward Williams late of Pont y Gwyddel Esqr., and upon the West side by the River Aled. Cae'r Eglwys is bounded upon the East side by a Garden late in the holding of Foulk ap Evan and part of the highway upon the North and West sides by the Lands of Plas yn y Cornel and upon the South side by a Field belonging to Robt. Lloyd late of Chwibren Gent. There is no Timber upon the Glebe but three young Ash Trees and one Sycamore Tree wch. are but of small vallue as yet. In the Church-yard there are Six yew Trees, and as some of them are decaying scarce thought to be worth three pounds.

- 4—The Tithe is variously divided the present Incumbent having two quarters and half a Quarter of all the Tithes issuing from the severall Townships, of Arllwyd, Heskin Llysaed Deunant Archwedlog Grygor Chwibren Penantaed Rhydidion Tre'rllan Hendrenenig and Treflech and the owner of the Sinecure having ye remaining Quarter and half Quarter of the said Tithes. But over and above the aforesd. Tithes the said Thomas Lloyd hath and enjoyeth all the Easter Dues Surplice Fees third part of all manner Tithes issuing from the Townships of Postin and Beidiog the other two parts in Postyn belong to the Bishop of St. Asaph as likewise one part in Beidiog the other part (excepting the wool, lambs and other small Tithes thereof wch. the sd. Bishop hath) being wholly enjoyed by the Rector of Gwytherin but by what claim is not known.
- 5—There are but two Modus's in the whole parish one upon the Demeasn of fforest in the Township of Archwedlog and Chwibren being ye Estate of John Lloyd Gent and the other upon a Tenement called Caedre in the Township of Chwibren being the Estate of William Myddelton, Esqr. the former paying twenty shillings p: ann: in lieu of all his Tieths of Corn and hay and ye latter paying three shillings and fourpence in lieu of the sd. Tithes issuing from ye said Tenement. It is not known upon what grounds and reasons these said Modus's are claimed.
- 6—There are no pensions augmentations or bequests made to the Church and its Minister and there is no Custom established to the expence and charge of the Incumbent by Distribution or Entertainment but that he is obliged to provide wine against Easter at his own proper charge.
- 7—In the Church there is one Bell, a Welch Bible and a welch Common Prayer Book in folio and three Welch Common Prayer Books in Quarto for the use of the Clerk and parishioners; and there are no other books left or belonging to ye Church. For the Communion there is a silver chalice without any Inscription and weighing ten ounces and half a Pewter Flagon and a Pewter Patten a carpet a Linnen cloth for ye Communion Table and a Napkin.

8—There are no Lands or money in stock for ye repairs of ye Church or Utensils the parishioners being charged wth. ye repair of Edifices and Church yard fence.

A Terrier of the House and Outhouse, Glebe, Tythes, Modus's &c. belonging to the Parish and Parish Church of Llansannan in the Diocese of St. Asaph and Deanery of Rhos.

There is a house called Glan yr Aled, twelve yards in length and seven and a half in breadth, built with stone by the late Revd. Thomas Lloyd Rector of this Parish but has since been raised four foot higher, new roofed, and covered with slates at the expence of the Revd. James Price the present Incumbent; which said house contains below stairs a Kitchin, Buttery, and Scullery, each of which are flagged, and a small Parlour floored with Mortar, and above stairs there are three Rooms and a Closet. The said James Price likewise at his own expence has made an additional cross building with stone, being in length seven yards and a half and breadth seven yards and a quarter, consisting of a Cellar flagged, a very good Parlour; with a room over it, and two large closets.—All the Rooms in the House, as well above as below, are plaistered and ceiled.

There is an Outhouse on the Glebe built with stone and covered with Slates at the expence of the said James Price, being in length ten yards, and in breadth six yards and three quarters, which consists of a Brewhouse, a Dairy, and a lodging room for a Servant, which are all flagged, and over the two last mentioned Apartments there is a Granary.

- 2—The Glebe consists of a Garden well fenced round with a quickset hedge, except one part with a stone wall, fifteen yards in length.

There are two Fields, ye one called Dôl y Saint, the other Cae yr Eglwys, which said Fields are about four Statute Acres. The Field called Dôl y Saint is bounded upon the North and East sides by the lands of Robert Birchinshaw of Voel Gent: on the South by the Lands of Mrs. Meyrick of Dyffrin Aled and by a rick yard belonging to Mrs. Hyde of Nerquis, and upon the West by the River Aled.—Cae yr Eglwys is bounded upon the East by a Garden belonging to Mrs. Meyrick of Dyffrin Aled and the highway, upon the North and West sides by the lands of Plâs yn Cornel belonging to John Wynne of Coed Coch Esqr., and upon the South side by a Field belonging to Henry Lloyd of Chwibren Gent: There is no timber upon the Glebe.—In the Church Yard there are five yew trees but of no great value.

- 3—The Tythe is variously divided, the Rector having two Quarters and half a quarter of all the Tythes issuing from the several Townships of Arllwyd, Heskin, Llysaed, Deunant, Archwedlog, Grugor, Chwibren, Pennant Aled, Rhydeidion, Treflan, Hendrenenig and Treflach, and the Owner of the Synecure having the remaining Quarter and half a Quarter of the said Tythes. But over and above the said Tythes, the Rector hath and enjoyeth all the Easter Dues, Surplice Fees, and the third part of all manner of Tythes issuing from the Townships of Postyn and Beidiog. The other two parts in Postyn belong to the Bishop of St. Asaph, as likewise one part in Beidiog. The other part (except the Wool, Lambs and other Tythes thereof which belong to the Bishop of St. Asaph) being wholly enjoyed by the Rector of Gwytherin, but by what claim is not known.
- 4—There are but two Modus's in the whole Parish, one upon the Demesne of Forest in the Townships of Archwedlog and Chwibren being the Estate of Wm. Lloyd Gent: and the other upon a Tenement called Cae yr Dref in Township of Chwibren being the Estate of John Myddelton of Gwaenynog Esqr. The former paying twenty shillings a year in lieu of all Tythes of Corn and Hay, and the other paying three Shillings and fourpence in lieu of the said Tythes issuing from the said Tenement. It is not known upon what Grounds and [reasons] these said Modus's are claimed.
- 5—There are no Pensions, Augmentations or Bequests made to the Church or Minister, and there is no Custom established to the expence and charge of the Incumbent by distribution or entertainment, except that he is obliged to provide two gallons of wine at Easter at his own proper charge.

- 6—In the Church there is one Bell, a Welch Bible and Common Prayer in Folio. For the Communion there is a Silver Chalice, a pewter Flagon, and a Pewter Patten, a Carpet, a linen Cloth and Napkin.
- 7—There are no lands or money in stock for the repair of the repair of the Church or Utensils, the Parishioners being charged with the Repair of Edifices and Churchyard fence.
- 8—The Clerk's wages are by custom paid by the Parishioners and he is appointed by the Minister.

In witness of the aforesaid Particulars we have subscribed our names this tenth Day of July in ye year of our Lord one Thousand seven Hundred and seventy four.
